WATER CONCERNS BACK FLOOD PLAN

Chinese Army Rushes to Rescue of War-Lord

OBJECTIONS VANISH AT CONCLAVE

NAZIS ASKED FOR ADVICE BY TOKIO

Kidnaping of General
Is Laid to Soviet;
Civil War Feared

NANKING. (AP)—China's national government military machine moved swiftly tonight on bleak Shensi province, where, government authorities were convinced, Generalissimo Chiang Kai Shek was held prisoner by his rebellious "young marshal," Chang Hsueh-Liang.

Responsible circles said they had no confirmation of reports that the generalissimo had imprisoned his captor in a counter coup.

Thousands of national government soldiers in north and northwest China were reported on the march to surround the whole of Shensi province, hoping to close every avenue of escape to the "young marshal."

In the last 24 hours, it was estimated, 25,000 soldiers had departed from Nanking toward the northwest, bound for the eastern and southern borders of Shensi.

KIDNAPER SAID TO BE KIDNAPED

TOKYO. (AP)—The Domei (Japanese) news agency today received Chinese reports from Peiping to the effect the 105th division of the northeastern Chinese army, going "outright Communist," had revolted and seized its commander, the "young marshal," Chang Hsueh-Liang, who last week imprisoned Generalissimo Chiang Kai-Shek.

Tokyo consulted Germany, her anti-Communist ally, today, on reports the Komintern was behind the amazing seizure of Chiang Kai-Shek amid Chinese predictions that China's overlord may face a firing squad—if he still is alive.

At the same time it was reported the vanguard of a Chinese rescue expedition, pressing toward rebel-held Sianfu, had clashed (Please turn to Page 2, Col. 5)

FRANCE AGAIN TO DEFAULT

PARIS. (AP)—The French government replied today to the United States call for payment of the semi-annual installment of France's defaulted war debt due Dec. 15.

The note focused interest on the question of formal negotiations for payment.

While the text of the note was kept secret, foreign office sources said it was formulated under practically the same conditions as the default notice last June 15.

Indications were the answer would be another formal expression of regret that France was not in position to make a payment.

Six Get Office Positions at SRA

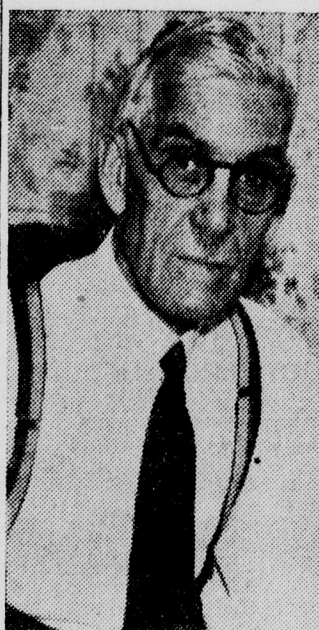

Six persons were given jobs in the administrative department of the Orange county SRA during the past week, it was announced today by Mrs. Katherine Hadley, head of the social service division. The additions to the administrative staff were made because of the increase in case load at SRA, reported today at more than 1300 cases, as compared with around 1200 a month ago.

41 Incomes Pass Million Mark

WASHINGTON. (AP)—One person in the United States had more than $4,000,000 income last year, the treasury reported today, and 40 others had more than $1,000,000.

In a preliminary report on 1935 income tax returns filed up to Aug. 31, the treasury said an aggregate net income of $1,656,079,000 was shown — $1,860,000,000 over 1934 but $10,150,000,000 under 1929.

Pension Leader

Dr. Francis E. Townsend, admitted leader for thousands of Townsend plan supporters in Orange county and the nation, will speak here next Saturday night at a mass meeting in the Santa Ana High school auditorium.

TOWNSEND TO TALK HERE

Pension Plan Leader Is To Address Mass Meet
At High School

Dr. Francis E. Townsend will make a personal appearance in Santa Ana next Saturday night.

Townsendites in Santa Ana were busy today making preparations to entertain their leader, who is the originator of the Townsend old age pension plan.

The Long Beach physician will deliver a lecture in the auditorium of the Santa Ana High school at 7:30 o'clock Saturday night. He will discuss the new bill which will be introduced in congress in January. The new measure is said to be an improvement over the McGroarty bill, which was said to have contained two features which were unconstitutional.

Another featured speaker on the program will be Edward F. Trefz, former secretary of the United States chamber of commerce. Trefz, who acted prominently for the government in several European countries during the World War, will discuss the subject, "The Townsend Plan: Its Possibilities for the Nation."

Townsend leaders here will contact various city officials and invite them to be honored platform guests at the mass meeting Saturday night, which will be staged under the direction of J. H. Walsh, district organizer for the 19th congressional district.

Doors of the school building will open at 6:30 p. m. and the meeting will start at 7:30. A capacity crowd is expected at the meeting. H. F. Kenney, Santa Ana, will lead community singing.

Sailor Faces Extortion Charge

LOS ANGELES. (AP)—Charged with attempting to extort $5000 from Ginger Rogers, film actress, by letters threatening death, James F. Hall, 20, U. S. Navy sailor, enters his plea in federal court today.

Although Hall's former sweetheart, Florence McElmore, of El Paso, had written Miss Rogers to "talk with Jimmy and satisfy yourself he is not the criminal type," officials said the screen star had not visited him since his arrest.

PAN-AMERICA PEACE PLAN DOOMED

League of Nations for Western Hemisphere
To Be Shelved

BUENOS AIRES. (AP)—Authoritative sources forecast today proposals for creation of an American league of nations and an American court would be shelved by the inter-American peace conference.

Juan Antonio Buro of Uruguay, chairman of a sub-committee which studied the projects submitted by several nations, prepared reports urging that the subjects be referred to the regular Pan-American conference at Lima in 1938, with experts studying them in the meantime.

A poll of members of the sub-committee indicated his recommendations would receive majority support.

The United States is understood to oppose both measures in their present form although it has recommended inter-American cooperation for peaceful settlement of American disputes.

Buro expressed the opinion the world court at The Hague is capable of settling international disputes requiring judicial arbitration and said the American League of Nations idea is so complex it requires long study.

Some large nations which are members of the Geneva league of nations, like Argentina, have opposed the American league plan for fear it would interfere with their Geneva commitments or would cause partial isolation of America from Europe.

DEATH EDICT FOR KILLER

Natividad Valenzuela, Delhi Mexican, will be sentenced next Friday to hang for the murder May 2 of his young wife, Jovita.

Officially notified today that the state supreme court has upheld the conviction of Valenzuela for the brutal slaying, Superior Judge James L. Allen set Friday at 10 a. m. for the resentencing.

Only one sentence is possible—death. Judge Allen must set the date sometime between 30 and 45 days from Friday.

Once before Valenzuela was sentenced to hang, after a jury found him guilty of first degree murder and found him sane. But the execution date passed while his appeal from the death sentence, automatic under California law, was pending.

It will not be necessary to bring Valenzuela here. He will remain in his cell in San Quentin penitentiary's death row.

Valenzuela confessed that he murdered his wife by beating her on the head and face with a heavy automobile jack, then threw her body into the Peters canyon drainage ditch.

What to Call It? Chickey? Or Just Turken?

WASHINGTON. (AP)—An attempt to cross turkeys and chickens was called a failure today by agriculture department experts.

Artificial methods were used to fertilize Rhode Island red hens and turkey hens, but only a few of the eggs were fertile. Those died during incubation.

HUNT BANDITS AFTER DUEL

Holdup Men Stage Gun
Fight During Chase
At Los Alamitos

Escaping through a hail of bullets in a gun fight at Los Alamitos yesterday, two filling station bandits today were being sought throughout Orange county.

The two men, who had held up a service station in Long Beach, fled on foot when their car was riddled by police fire, as they raced toward Los Alamitos, in broad daylight.

Despite the fact that six Long Beach police cars were at the scene within a few moments, the bandits made their escape good.

Motorized and radio-equipped officers were combing the county for them today. They fired one shot through a pursuing police car before fleeing.

A passing motorist had given chase after the pair had robbed Martin DeLong, service station attendant, of $20. The motorist was joined in the chase, first by one Long Beach police car, then by five others.

As the fugitives took to their feet, the army of officers was augmented by two autos from the Norwalk sheriff's substation, and several patrol cars and motorcycles from Santa Ana.

FARM INCOME TO TAKE JUMP

BAKERSFIELD. (AP)—State Director of Agriculture, A. A. Brock, reported to the 69th convention of the California fruit growers and farmers here today, said the gross income of the state's agricultural producers for 1936 would be about $600,000,000.

"This is the best figure since the depression started," Brock said, "and compares with an income of $372,148,000 for 78 crop and 13 livestock items in 1932 which grew to $529,762,000 by 1935."

Brock predicted that the 1937 legislature would attempt to correct or amend many existing farm laws and said that his department had adopted the policy of not sponsoring or initiating farm laws.

Government May Buy Leviathan

WASHINGTON. (AP)—The maritime commission said today it had asked the war and navy departments whether they would be interested in buying the Leviathan for use as a national defense auxiliary vessel.

The Leviathan, now laid up, was purchased from the government by the United States Lines company after its seizure from Germany during the war.

Under a contract with the commerce department, the company must build a new liner to replace the Leviathan.

DEATH DRIVER TRAILED BY OFFICERS

Hit-Run Car Kills Fred
Dominguez Sunday on Canyon Highway

An unknown hit-run driver who is thought to have struck down and killed a man on the Santa Ana canyon road early yesterday was hunted by sheriff's officers and California Highway patrolmen today.

The man killed was found to be Fred Dominguez, 50, employee of the Silverado transient camp. His body was discovered lying alongside the road. He died of head injuries, officers believed.

Discoveries Body
W. B. Cochran, Anaheim, discovered the body and reported to the sheriff's office shortly before 4 a. m. yesterday. Letters in the victim's pocket served for identification.

Other employees at the camp said Dominguez had gone to San Bernardino Saturday on a camp truck with several other men. He was seen there around 3 p. m., they said. Coroner Earl Abbey was conducting an investigation today.

Woman Injured
The dips and curves in Laguna Beach's streets, which last week claimed the life of Dewey Henning after an accident there Dec. 3, were blamed for another accident Saturday night in which Mrs. Sarah Hooker of Riverside incurred a broken arm and painful bruises.

Mrs. Hooker was struck by a car driven by Donald B. Dilworth, Long Beach, just two blocks from the scene of the Henning accident. Dilworth was not held, and Mrs. Hooker was taken to her home after treatment by a Laguna physician.

Brookside Crash
Three persons were taken to Long Beach Community hospital for treatment of injuries following a crash on Wiersburg road last night. Cars driven by Gale Denison, 45, Los Angeles, and E. F. Sutherland, 42, Huntington Beach, collided broadside at an intersection. (Please turn to Page 2, Col. 3)

George VI Takes Oath; Canterbury Castigates Duke

By the Associated Press
LONDON.—George VI, Britain's new king, pledged to his parliament today "my constant endeavor, with God's help and supported by my dear wife, to uphold the honor of the realm and promote the happiness of the people." His message was read, first to the house of lords, while Edward, Duke of Windsor, sought relaxation in the guarded grounds of an Austrian castle and, as a private citizen, arranged to consult a Vienna specialist for an old ear affliction.

Into the new king's promise he injected the phrase, "at a moment of great personal distress." It was George VI's forty-first birthday, Jan. 14, a grave aftermath of empire crisis created by his brother's love for a twice married American he waived all anniversary ceremony.

Refuse Oath
His action in keeping with a call from the Archbishop of Canterbury for a nation consecrated anew to Christian sobriety.

Lord Halifax read the monarch's message to the House of Lords, which was transmitted to Stanley Baldwin for delivery to the house of commons, where members continued their individual oaths of allegiance to the king.

William Gallacher, Communist member of the house of commons, and several others refused to take the oath of allegiance to the new king.

The dissenters substituted an "affirmation of good faith" but declined to swear the regular oath on a Bible.

Parliamentary circles considered the substitution a pledge which bound the dissenting members as strongly as the traditional oath.

Castigates Friends
At Cannes, Wallis Warfield Simpson, the woman for whom Edward renounced the throne and all that it is linked to, was guarded with new vigilance after the receipt of abusive letters. She did, however, spend a short time in the bright sunshine of the garden at Villa Lou Viei.

The country needs a renewal of its belief in the Christian life, asserted the Archbishop of Canterbury, in a castigation of former King Edward as a man who "disappointed hopes so high and abandoned a trust so great."

While Edward relaxed at Kose-lay, Austria, where he retired to, his friends were urged to support the new king.

"IMPOSSIBLE," SAY FASCISTS
SALAMANCA, Spain. (AP)—Mediation of the Spanish civil war is "impossible," officials at Fascist general headquarters said today.

"The Nationalists (Fascists) are engaged in a struggle which allows no possibility of compromise," a spokesman said.

"General Franco (Gen. Francisco Franco, insurgent commander) has declared several times that no arrangement is possible between the rabble and us, between traitors to their country and us."

"The war can only end by victory at the point of a bayonet or by the unconditional surrender of the Socialist government."

MURDER CASE TO JURY TODAY

Fate of Filiberto Bessera, accused of murdering Pablo Bladerama Oct. 17 in a drunken brawl, will go to a superior court jury this afternoon.

Bessera, who contended he killed Bladerama in self defense, today repudiated a statement he had made to Deputy District Attorney James Davis to the effect that he had picked up the knife used in slaying after the fight.

"My attorney told me to tell the truth," Bessera said.

Bear Hunting Still Is Good

ISABELLA, Calif. (AP)—Frank Williams, Indian tracker and hunter, found bear hunting still good in the Kern county mountains.

Hearing of fresh bear tracks on Plute mountain in the Kern River area, he went out and before sunset tracked down and killed a 400 pound black bear, making his Indian friends happy with plenty of bear steaks.

BERLIN AIDS PEACE PLAN

Ready to Help in Spain
Arbitration; Fascists
Claim 'Impossible'

BERLIN. (AP)—The German government stood ready today to consider with other governments any concrete proposal to bring an end to the Spanish civil war.

Germany raised the question, however, in her reply to the Franco-British international mediation proposal, whether Conciliation could be achieved between Spanish Fascists and Socialists.

Germany also asked whether it was not too late to stop foreign volunteers from joining both sides in the Spanish conflict.

Results Doubtful
The memorandum said Germany last August urged measures against volunteers, and added the Reich "regretted very much that other governments at that time could not make up their minds—a fact which doubtless has contributed materially towards aggravating the situation in Spain."

"IMPOSSIBLE," SAY FASCISTS
SALAMANCA, Spain. (AP)—Mediation of the Spanish civil war is "impossible," officials at Fascist general headquarters said today.

Social Security Changes Offered

WASHINGTON. (AP)—Rep Quinn (D., Pa.) filed with the house clerk today a bill to amend the social security act by exempting corporations which have their own old age benefit plans.

The bill would provide that any corporation may become exempt from the law and its payroll taxes provided that it "shall have in operation an old age benefit plan (otherwise known as an old age pension plan) which shall meet with the approval of the social security board as to the stability of the said corporation . . . and as to the adequacy of the provisions of its old age benefit plan."

Pending publication of the text of the Italian note, handed to the state department by Ambassador Fulvio Suvich, it was not known immediately whether it contained any language indicating hope for a future settlement.

Italy was the second of 13 debtor nations which have served notice of their intention to default again. Great Britain notified this government last week it would not pay its regular semi-annual installment, but mentioned the possibility of discussions leading toward settlement. There have been no indications any of the 13 nations except Finland would meet its Dec. 15 payment.

War Bonuses to Buy Yule Gifts

WASHINGTON. (AP)—With Christmas shopping on their minds, many World War veterans who held their bonus bonds for five months are cashing them now.

Treasury officials said today bonds have been cashed at the rate of more than $1,000,000 a day during the last two weeks.

This is far under the rate of during June and July. Bonds totaling $1,788,120,000 were issued and all but $462,000,000 have been cashed.

ITALIANS JOIN DEFAULTERS

WASHINGTON. (AP)—The Italian government defaulted anew today on its war debt to the United States, informing this government it is unable to meet its $2,141,593 installment due on Dec. 15.

Pending publication of the text of the Italian note, handed to the state department by Ambassador Fulvio Suvich, it was not known immediately whether it contained any language indicating hope for a future settlement.

CONDITION OF POPE WORSE

VATICAN CITY. (AP)—Attendants of Pope Pius XI said today the circulatory stagnation which has caused the Holy Father intense pain in moving his legs, has been complicated by a grave varicose condition in the left leg.

Well-informed sources said that, while the 79-year-old Pontiff's condition was not such as to eliminate "every apprehension," these apprehensions were not imminent.

The Pope's doctors said his tenacious will had been his "best remedy" during the past few days.

PENSION CARD DEADLINE IS TUESDAY

Postoffice Will Receive Filings Until Closing Time Tomorrow

Santa Ana employees must have filed applications at the post office here by tomorrow night if their accounts are to be set up in time for the opening of the new social security program on Jan. 1.

Beginning with the first of the year, employers, except in agriculture and in a few other lines, are required to deduct one per cent from each employee's check, contribute a like amount, and send it to the social security board.

No Prosecutions The contributions will be collected in a national fund to provide pensions beginning at the age of 65, based upon the earnings of the employee between now and his 35th birthday.

Presumably there will be no prosecutions for failure to file applications, but there is the chance that the employee will lose credit for the deduction from his salary if his account has not been set up.

Blanks Available About 7500 have been sent in cards through the Santa Ana post office, which issued 9500 blanks. Many of the others, according to Postmaster Frank R. Harwood, probably have been sent through the Los Angeles postoffice by firms which have disbursing offices there.

Any others whose employers have not issued them blanks, or who have failed to fill them out and return them, may obtain blanks at the post office. A clerk and four typists are preparing account numbers and identification cards for employees here.

Victim Absent at Theft Hearing

With the complaining witness unable to come to court, Paul C. Conner today went on trial before a jury in Superior Judge James L. Allen's court on charges of petty theft with a prior felony conviction.

Conner's attorney, Franklin B. West, sought also to block introduction of testimony given by the complaining witness, Miss Mildred Amers, at a preliminary hearing. Judge Allen was to rule on the question this afternoon.

Conner is charged with stealing a purse and contents valued at $5 from Miss Amers on Sept. 24 at the K. P. hall, Anaheim. Miss Amers has moved to Seattle, the court was informed today.

Wally's House Is Disappearing

BLUE RIDGE SUMMIT, Pa. (AP)—Sovereign hunters, bit by bit, have been carrying away the house in which Mrs. Wallis Simpson, the former King Edward's friend, was born.

As a result, the owners have installed padlocks on all the doors of the vacant house and have nailed shutters on the windows. Several hundred persons visited the place yesterday, and many of them carried away twigs from the yard, in lieu of anything more closely connected with the house.

GIRL GUARD IS RUN DOWN Wooden Lassie Loses Head

First fatality among the new girl school crossing guards was reported today.

The guard was struck down and decapitated by an automobile at First and Lyon streets, according to a report filed at the police station.

Experts shook their heads sadly and agreed it would be impossible to do anything about the situation, except perhaps make a new girl guard for the school crossing.

The guard struck down by the car was one of the new wooden girls placed at school crossings by the police department to slow down motorists as they drive past the schools.

Driver of the car, it was reported, was A. B. Chandler, of 406 East Walnut street.

NEW CELESTIAL FAMILY FOUND

PASADENA. (AP)—Tiny spots of light on a series of astronomical photographs were disclosed today as a new family of nebulae, or minor universes, located two sextillion miles (2 plus 21 eighths) from the earth.

The discovery was announced in the annual report of the Carnegie institution's Mt. Wilson observatory.

Found by Dr. Edwin F. Hubble while studying the Bootis nebulae, the new cluster, most distant ever photographed, has been named "Hydra No. 1." Its light required 326,000,000 years to reach the earth.

Each of the 200 far-off nebulae is as large or larger than the star system to which the sun belongs, astronomers said.

JAN. 1 DUCATS ARE SOLD OUT

PASADENA. (AP)—Rose bowl headquarters proclaimed the Washington-Pittsburgh football game New Year's day a "sell-out" and announced today that no more ticket applications would be accepted.

The bowl seats approximately 85,000, and the ticket price ranged from $2.20 to $4.40.

"The game is definitely a sell-out," said Carl Kilgore, Washington's manager of athletics, after viewing a deluge of mail applications over the week-end.

Bean Yield Cut On Eroded Land

Erosion on sloping lands reduces the lima bean yields as much as 75 per cent, according to results of a test announced today by the Soil Conservation Service.

Tests were conducted by planting plots identical in size, soil, exposure and slope in the Las Posas valley, Ventura county, where the SCS has a demonstration project similar to ones at El Toro and La Habra in Orange county.

Plots were seeded and cultivated in the normal course of farming, and were checked carefully for yield at harvest. Officials pointed out that erosion control measures should be put into effect before erosion has reduced yields enough to make farming unprofitable.

October Avocado Returns Are High

October shipments of avocados will net Calavo growers approximately 40 per cent higher prices than in the same month of the record season of two years ago, it was announced today by Calavo Growers of California.

The higher average return is despite a 15 per cent greater tonnage than in October, 1934.

Fuertes will average 53 per cent higher returns per packed box, returning an average of $1.78 per packed flat from pool payments alone.

NO REPORT TO BE FILED ON OIL PROBE LOWER COURT MUST HEAR PWA CASE

Grand jury investigation of the Orange county road oil mess apparently ended today without an indictment or a special report on the jury's findings.

After questioning Supervisor LeRoy Lyon of Anaheim this morning, the grand jury dismissed the shorthand reporter and conferred alone for a half hour, then adjourned at 11:35 a. m. A grand juror said the investigation was "about wound up" and that there will be no special report.

By remaining silent after a week of probing charges that the Eden Refining company sold to the county oil diluted with mud and water, the grand jury left the situation, packed with political dynamite, just where it was when the investigation opened.

Unless an indictment is returned, testimony taken by the grand jury will remain forever a secret. Reference to the oil investigation in the jury's final report probably will not include the testimony itself and may go into the subject only briefly.

A chemist's report on the road oil made public during the November election campaign, was believed an element in the defeat of William C. Jerome, Santa Ana, for supervisor. His son, Don Jerome, is a member of the Eden firm.

As a result of the disclosure, printed in an advertisement in the Santa Ana Independent, Jerome caused the arrest of Alvin B. Perry, editor of the paper, and J. P. Burke, former Santa Ana publisher, on charges of causing a political advertisement to be published without the signatures of the persons responsible.

The charges were dismissed in Justice Kenneth Morrison's court here last week.

Says New Yorkers Just Villagers

NEW YORK. (AP)—Most New Yorkers are villagers with small-town minds, and provide the most important educational problem facing the city, Professor Joseph K. Hart, of Teachers' college, Columbia university, wrote in a published article today.

"There are men, women and children now living in metropolitan areas who are as remote from any share in the social meanings of the modern age as if they were living in the remotest Africa," he contended.

"The majority of New Yorkers are villagers without the society of a village. The amount of frustration, limitation, feeling of inferiority, and resentment growing out of the failure of social communication must be enormous."

Veterans Hear Rufus Goofus Play

Members, wives and guests of Ernest Kellogg post, Veterans of Foreign Wars, enjoyed a pot-luck dinner and social event in the K. of P. hall last night.

The entertainment was furnished by Rufus Brewster, known on the radio as "Rufus Goofus," who played and sang western songs. Brewster was accompanied to the party by his wife, Mrs. Maxine Brewster, and their baby.

The Brewsters were guests of T. C. McCollen, Collie Horton and Olive Hadley, all of Orange.

Following the dinner, cards were enjoyed. Money raised at the event will be used as a Christmas benefit fund for veterans.

Mother Ignorant Of Son's Death

LOS ANGELES. (AP)—A conspiracy of mercy endured today, shielding the blind mother of Russ Columbo, screen and radio crooner, from all word of his death 27 months ago.

Mrs. Julia Columbo, who built bright dreams for her handsome son in her darkened world, believes him still alive.

Saturday night she observed her 50th wedding anniversary with her husband, Nicholas, a gay celebration at the Columbo home.

She was "very happy," she said, even though Russ, busy singing in the east, could not be there. Friends nodded and spoke of his success.

Jaysee Pigskin Banquet Delayed

Postponement of Santa Ana Junior college's football banquet until after the Christmas holidays was announced today by a Chamber of Commerce committee sponsoring the affair.

Committeemen Calvin Flint, John Lutz, George Baker, Rolla Hays, Jr., and Harold Wright decided at a meeting today a finer program can be arranged after the holidays. "We want to give the Southern California champion Dons the kind of program they deserve, and it will require more time to line up an all-star cast of entertainers," they said.

Her death was the result of an illness of several months. She is survived by her husband, Elmer E. Fey; a daughter, Miss Audra Fey of Santa Ana; two sons, Gardner Fey of Iowa and Howard Fey of Portland, Ore.; two brothers, John Miller of Santa Ana and Henry Miller of Carroll, Iowa, and a sister, Miss Lizzie Miller, also of Carroll. REPORTS EAREL IS SUICIDE

Despondent over family trouble four years ago, James Ray Earel, 54, rancher at Batavia and Collins streets, Orange, Saturday night penned a note to his son in Santa Ana and shot himself with a small caliber rifle, Deputy Coroner J. B. Casteix said today.

His son, Harley Herbert Earel of 520 Linwood street, Santa Ana, received the letter this morning, called his uncle, Dr. Fred Earel of Santa Ana, and went to his father's home, where he discovered the body.

Friends said Mr. Earel had been despondent since a divorce from his wife four years ago. There will be no inquest.

Lukens Pottery Is Shown at Museum

Glen Lukens, professor of ceramics in the college of architecture and fine arts in the University of Southern California, and former head of the hand crafts department of Fullerton High school and Junior college, gave an address and showed some of his recent work Sunday afternoon at Bowers Memorial museum.

Much interest was shown in the pottery exhibited and in the new treatments with which he is experimenting. Lukens told his audience about his work and of the methods used in making the ware which he has named "South-west."

PERMANENT CCC RECOMMENDED

WASHINGTON. (AP)—Reporting that 12,000 young men left the Civilian Conservation corps for outside jobs each month in 1936, Robert Fechner recommended today the program be made permanent.

His annual report as director of emergency conservation work showed a CCC enrollment of 378,467 for the year.

"As long as there are young men, eager to work, yet idle through no fault of their own," he said, "the CCC can continue to be an effective part of our national policy, because the work of conservation which needs doing is so great as to be able to use, for many years, the services of many men."

If CCC is made permanent, Fechner added, "it is strongly urged and recommended that all positions have enrollees and intermittent workers should be placed under the classified civil service."

OWENS VOTED OUTSTANDING ATHLETE OF '36

Kudo, Coleman Top 5-Bout Card Tonight

Front-Wheel Drive Powers Huskies

Washington Line Won Rose Bowl Bid, Says Phelan

By FRANK GORRIE

SEATTLE, (AP)—What made the Rose Bowl-bound University of Washington football machine click this season?

Take it from Coach Jimmy Phelan, it was the front-wheel drive—the front line.

Only 22 times could nine opposing teams break through this barrier for first downs at scrimmage. One of the best testimonials of Washington's strength can be gleaned from the statistics of the intersectional battle with Minnesota. The mighty Gophers, recognized as the highest ranking team in the country, mustered but four first down thrusts through the line.

COACH JIMMY PHELAN

A forward pass gave Minnesota one other.

Out-Rushed Gophers Washington lost the game, 7-14, in spite of the fact it made twice as many "10-yard" rushes. It was the only defeat of the season for the Huskies who are training to represent the West in the Pasadena Rose Bowl classic New Year's day.

Figures for the season showed Washington making 70 first downs from scrimmage and 23 more via the air for a total of 2,133 yards. The nine opponents totaled 22 on the ground and 19 on passes for 1,102 yards.

The University of Idaho was stopped cold, California gained one first down, Washington State college 2. This was the kind of defensive work the Huskie line dished out. The University of Oregon proved the most stubborn opposition. The Webfoots chalked up 4 rushing first downs and 6 through the air.

Yield Five Touchdowns Led by Max John Starcevic, all-America guard, the Huskies permitted but five touchdowns—two by Minnesota, two by Stanford and one by Oregon State. And only two—one by the Gophers and the other by Stanford—were gained on running plays.

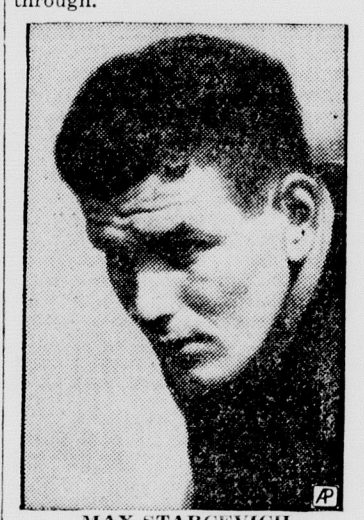

The powerful line is composed of three seniors, three sophomores and a junior. It averages exactly 195 pounds.

John Wiatrak, 200-pound center, and Charles Bond, 210-pound tackle, and Starcevic, 200-pound guard, are the three cleated warriors who will see their last collegiate competition in the Rose Bowl.

The sophomores are Dick Johnson, 184, and Frank Peters, 172, the two ends, and Steve Slivinski, 194-pound guard. Vic Markov, junior, plugs up the other tackle with 205 pounds.

The ends are fast and sticky-fingered. Both have grabbed touchdowns. Bond is rugged and Markov tricky. Starcevic is the smoothest performer, and a great open-field tackler. Many times he nailed punt receivers in their tracks. Slivinski is the toughest of the lot. He promises to become one of Washington's greatest. Wiatrak is a nifty ball-handler, and smart. He is at his best bowling over opposing runners who try to break through.

ROEBUCK AND STRONGBOW APPEAR

Referee to Pick Winner In 'Finish' Scrap at Highway 101 Arena

An enlarged card, showing three power-houses—Indian Jules Strongbow, Thor Johnson and Tiny Roebuck—in addition to the main-eventers, Kiman Kudo and Bob Coleman, will be presented by Promoter Sam Sampson at the O. C. A. C. on Highway 101 tonight.

The 345-pound Johnson draws the popular young Mexican, Ignacio Martinez.

Guard Against Draw

Last week the Japanese champion, Kudo, one of the few black belt oriental grapplers in this country, and the middleweight title claimant, Coleman, hit a pace that had the fans on edge for one hour without either last being able to pin the other. The match resulted in a no-fall draw. Tonight, whether a fall is scored or not, the referee will be called upon to name a winner.

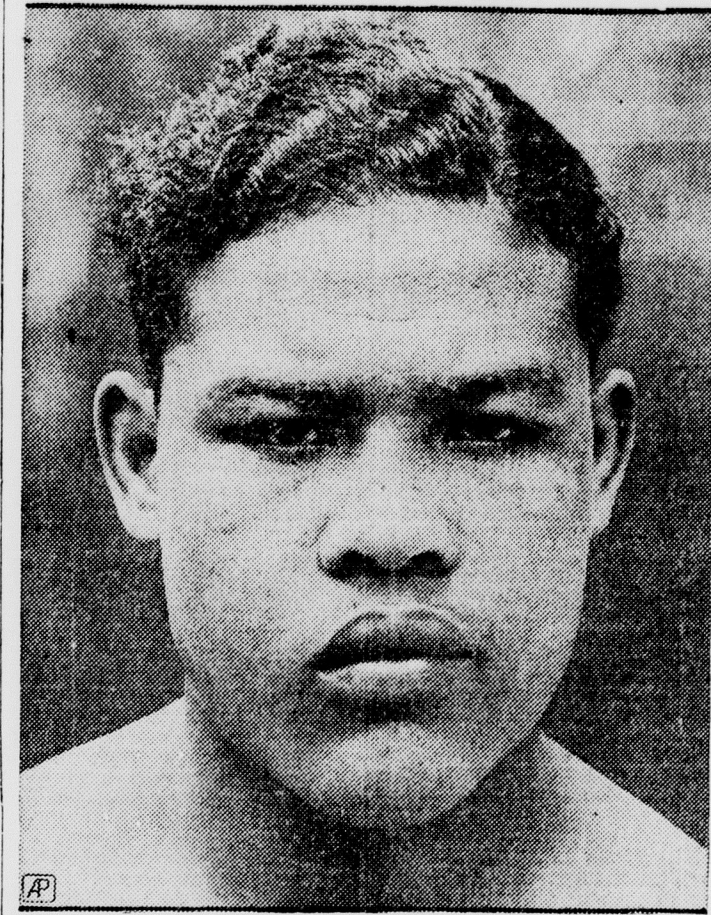

Both men have agreed if the bout lasts until midnight without a fall being scored, the referee will decide the issue.

Coleman expects to open up with flying tackles from the outset in hope of weakening the Nipponese star. If he carries out his pre-battle plan, the match is apt to result in a decisive victory for one or the other. Kudo, acknowledged the more powerful of the two, will depend upon his strength and endurance, coupled with his superior knowledge of jujitsu.

Strongbow Is Tough Preceding the main finish match, Martinez, undefeated Mexican, meets the giant Steve Johnson, who has never lost a bout here. Just back from a tour, Johnson may crush Martinez for the first time before a local audience.

Although the center of interest is in the finish and secondary three-fall matches, the wrestler who is the biggest individual attraction is Indian Strongbow, wildest of the wild behemoths. Strongbow meets powerful Paul Harper, Boston blacksmith, in the added feature. Right now the Oklahoma Indian is the most talked about heavyweight in the world. He is being boomed for a title match with Dean Detton. Fans who thought Wee Willie Davis and Ernie Dusek were tough will change their minds when they see Strongbow. Two other bouts are carded. One features Tiny Roebuck vs. Jack Patterson, and the other a pair of little fellows.

Makes First Start in Two Months

Joe Louis, once the dread of the heavyweight division, who boxes Eddie Simms, hard-hitting Cleveland, in his first start in two months tonight.

Louis Rated Over Simms Tonight

(The Joe Louis-Eddie Simms fight can be heard over KFLA at 7:15 o'clock, Santa Ana time.)

CLEVELAND, (AP)—Joe Louis makes his first comeback trail start in two months when he enters the ring at Public hall tonight for a battle with the hard-hitting Cleveland, Eddie Simms.

The Detroit Brown Bomber will draw $20,000 for his first bout since he knocked out Jorge Brescia two months ago. Simms' end of the charity box purse is $4,000.

Some 11,000 persons were expected for the heavyweight mixup, scheduled for 10 rounds. Most of the boxing observers and many of Simms' best friends thought, however, that Louis would abbreviate the spectacle.

"Can't fool around with Simms long. Don't pay to dilly dally with that kind," said Louis in one of his typically short speeches.

Simms has plenty behind his blows and his only chance was figured to be his right hand. The Bomber's handlers say he has changed his tactics since his unexpected knockout from Max Schmeling and is no longer vulnerable on this score.

Arthur Donovan of New York, who refereed the Schmeling-Louis affair, will be the third man.

Louis' handlers indicated they were not particularly disappointed by the New York boxing commission's action in ruling out Louis' proposed shot at Jimmy Braddock before Braddock meets Schmeling in June.

"That simply means we'll go out and accept a few of the many offers we have been made," said co-manager John Roxborough. Louis himself was silent.

DON QUINTET TO INVADE COMPTON

Relative strength of Santa Ana and Fullerton in the Eastern conference will be revealed—partially at least—in the Compton gymnasium tonight.

Coach Blanchard Beatty escorts his local melon-tossers to the Tartar stronghold for a basketball doubleheader with Ken Mason's freelancers at 7 o'clock tonight.

Fullerton, runner-up to Riverside for the Eastern division crown last winter, and retaining Capt. Walt Leitchfuss and a flock of hold-overs, decided Compton twice, 46 to 18 and 34 to 27 in recent starts. Long Beach Vikings, stronger perhaps than Compton, wallowed Santa Ana, 39 to 14, here last week before the Dens had been in suit a week.

What eventually may prove to be his most powerful combination will take the floor for Coach Beatty. He said he would start Erwin Youel, dependable ex-Saint, and Letterman Ken Nissley at forward, Southpaw Harry Stanley (Letterman) at center, Bob Brown (Letterman) and Harold Eastham at guard. Ed Eastham, brother of Hal, has not shown up for the past two drills, and may not play against Compton. John Jennison, Bob Cunningham and Ken Marshall have left for North Dakota to spend the holidays with parents, and will not be available until early January.

Bob Paul, crack guard from Orange High, Elmer Smith, Don Randall, Clarence (Tay) Riggs, Dick Dyke and Charley McIntyre are among the Dons making the trip.

SAINTS PREPARE FOR H. B. INVITATIONAL

Santa Ana High school's basketball varsity was to go through a light drill with Ralph (Bill) Cole's Tustin Tillers today in preparation for the Southern Counties Invitational which opens in Huntington Beach Thursday. The first opponent of Reese (Pinky) Green's Saints, defending champions of the major division, will be Whittier of the Foothill league at 4:30 p. m. Friday.

Green Bay Packers U. S. Pro Champs

NEW YORK, (AP)—The Green Bay Packers took a big Christmas present back to Wisconsin today—The National Professional Football league championship.

Waking up after going around in a what closely resembled a trance during the first quarter, the passing power-house from the Midwest marched into the title yesterday with a 21-6 victory over the Boston Redskins, champions of the East.

SPORTS ROUNDUP

By EDDIE BRIETZ Associated Press Sports Writer

NEW YORK, (AP)—Here's a tip: If the Braddock-Schmeling winner fights Joe Louis next September, Mike Jacobs will be the promoter. . . . Contracts name both Max and Jimmy free agents after the June fight. . . . But Mike didn't call off the Atlantic City thing for nothing. . . . Chances are he traded and has Schmeling under contract right now for a September fight. . . . It was a strange spectacle in the negotiations last week to find Schmeling, controlled by Jacobs, lining up with the Garden while Braddock, under contract with the Garden, walking hand in hand with the 20th Century.

Dick Harlow of Harvard rated all-America Coach honors in the New York World Telegram's poll. . . . So the Notre Dame coaching system is slipping, eh? . . . Well, five teams which will appear in "bowl" games New Year's day use it.

Bob Feller waited a bit too long to begin squawking for a $20,000 contract, didn't he?

Sports Editor Alan Gould is off on a lecture tour, making one-night stops at Norfolk tonight and Charlotte, N. C., tomorrow.

Tom Gallery, Los Angeles promoter, is a dead ringer for James J. Braddock. . . . At the boxing commission meeting the other day three persons slapped Tom on the back with a cheery "Hey, Jim."

One reason the southwest conference turns out so many good passers is that the boys down there throw baskets almost from birth. . . . Sammy Baugh of Texas Christian didn't make all-America but in our book he's the best pitcher in football. . . . If you don't believe he can throw that football, just ask Santa Clara.

Roy Riegels, who ran the wrong way in the Rose Bowl game, is in town and he'll tell you all about it if you ask him. . . . Doesn't mind it a bit. . . . More power to his kind.

FOUR MAJOR NINES SECURE CREAM OF ROOKIE CROP

By SCOTTY RESTON

NEW YORK, (AP)—The Cleveland Indians, Detroit Tigers, St. Louis Cardinals and Chicago Cubs picked up the best of this year's major league prospects, an Associated Press poll of major league managers indicated today. Standout of the lot, of course, was Bob Feller, whose graduation to Cleveland by means of book-keeping without his having played for a minor league club was the source of considerable excitement and worry at the recent baseball meetings. Aside from his there's no single standout player, but the managers list the following as outstanding rookies:

Owen Hilt 336 CLEVELAND—Pitcher Charlie Fischer, Buffalo, led international league with 17 victories, 2 defeats; Tom Henrich, outfielder from New Orleans via Milwaukee; batted .346 in 157 games for New Orleans.

DETROIT—Rudy York, first baseman from Milwaukee, hit .334 in 157 games; Chet Laabs, outfielder from Milwaukee, batted .324 in 157 games.

CARDINALS—Catcher Arnold (Mickey) Owen, Columbus, hit .336 in 125 games and was hailed as one of the finest receivers seen in the minors in years; Infielder Ira Smith, Houston, batted .313 in Texas league.

CUBS—Joe Marty, outfielder from Los Angeles, led Pacific Coast batters with mark of .359 in 164 games.

The energetic Cincinnati club and the personal scouting system of Manager Bill McKechnie of the Boston Bees also brought in some promising youngsters. The Reds obtained two outstanding boys from the Durham, N. C., club of the Piedmont league, Infielder Frank McCormick and Pitcher John Vandermere. McCormick batted .381 and Vandermere won 19 games and lost only 6.

McKechnie took time out in mid-season for a scouting trip and came up with two pitchers who stand near the top of the "AA" class. He got St. Paul's Lou Pette, who won 25 games and lost eight to lead the American association hurlers, and Bill Harris of Buffalo, who won 15 and lost 11. Harris pitched two no-hit games in the International loop, one a seven-inning affair.

In addition to Marty, Bob Doerr of San Diego and Eddie Joost of San Francisco, both infielders, were generally conceded to be the Coast league's top prospects. The Boston Red Sox got Doerr and the Reds Joost. One of Cincinnati's best prospects, Catcher John Peacock, wound up with the Red Sox, who signed him after he was declared a free agent.

Gun Clubmen Shine in 4th Annual Shoot

Flintlocks dating back to 1750 and other historic guns were fired over the San Diego foothills yesterday with the holding of the Southern California Gun Collectors' fourth annual match.

Only one of the eventful program was "Buckskin Band" Sacket of Orange, who gashed his hand when a knife slipped as he trimmed the wadding in loading a rifle.

The ancient firearms weighed from 15 to 30 pounds in the shooting from ranges up to 220 yards. For the type of guns used, the shooting was exceptional, officials said.

BOWL GAINS IN PRESTIGE Thanks To Texas Christian

By ROBERT MYERS PASADENA, (AP)—Pasadena's famed Rose bowl, without admitting it ever lost any, regained its dignity today.

Texas Christian university's football team indirectly accomplished this service to the Rose bowl Saturday when it bumped over Santa Clara. The Pasadena folk choose to believe that the upset took all—anyhow, a lot—of the sweetness out of the rival Sugar bowl game at New Orleans between Santa Clara and Louisiana State.

The Santa Bowl attraction with its then-undefeated Santa Clara-L. S. U. lineup, needless to say, was a thorn in the side of the local Rose bowl society.

Today the Rose bowl patrons perked up considerably and began to look forward to the arrival this week-end of two national grid attractions, the Pittsburgh Panthers and University of Washington's Huskies.

Athletic Director Don Harrison announced definitely that Pitt would leave for the West Wednesday night and arrive in Albuquerque, N. M., Friday morning for a brief workout and sight seeing trip. The 34-man squad will journey to California and arrive at Arrowhead Springs, near San Bernardino, around noon Saturday.

Dr. Jock Sutherland will train his panthers at Arrowhead Springs until a scant day or so before the New Year's day game.

Word from the north said Coach Jimmy Phelan will lead his Pacific coast champion Huskies south next Monday, proceeding directly to Pasadena to establish training quarters.

Texas Christian's Horned Frogs, incidentally, spent today in Los Angeles en route to their home at Fort Worth.

Invited to play Marquette in the Cotton bowl at Dallas, Coach "Dutch" Meyer said final action on the matter rested with athletic authorities of the school, but that the boys were in favor of the post-season game.

JIM SWEET OF SANTA ANA ANNEXES SANTIAGO SHOOT

James S. Sweet of Santa Ana, secretary of the Santiago Rifle and Revolver club, won the annual members match medal at a shoot on the club's range near Irvine park yesterday.

Sweet tied for second with E. B. Workman of Orange, and Myron Warner of Santa Ana with 140 points of a possible 150, but under the rules of the club those who have won the medal in previous years are not eligible.

Harold Warner of Santa Ana, who had high score of 143x150, Workman and Myron Warner are previous winners. Fourth place went to Carl Zimmer of Orange with 139x150; fifth to Albert George Green, Santa Ana, and Jess Lam, Orange, with 136x150.

Ohio State Negro Polls 51 Out of 65 First Places in Voting

By ALAN GOULD

NEW YORK, (AP)—To his collection of four Olympic gold medals, as many oak trees, and the profits of his big broad jump from amateur to professional ranks, Jesse Owens today can add the accolade of recognition as the outstanding athlete of 1936.

The seipia streak from Ohio State, crowned world champion sprinter and broad jumper in the Olympic Games at Berlin, ran off with the ballots in the sixth annual poll conducted by the Associated Press to determine this year's leading performer among the men, amateur or pro, in any sport.

Second Negro in Row

Owens is the second negro in succession to achieve this athletic distinction. Last year Joe Louis, the Brown Bomber of the ring, was voted the outstanding performer of the year.

Fifty-one of the 65 experts contributing to the 1936 poll put Owens at the top of the list. With a total of 170 points in the final tabulation, Jesse nearly trebled the count of his nearest rival, Carl Hubbell, southpaw ace of the New York Giants and hero of the year's longest winning streak. Hubbell, voted the outstanding athlete of 1933, posted 61 points.

Third place, by the slim margin of a single point, went to Yale's football captain and all-American, Lawrence M. Kelley of Williamsport, Pa. Kelley ousted Max Schmeling, the German heavyweight who sprang the year's fistic sensation by knocking out Joe Louis. The point totals were 33 and 32, although Schmeling received five ballots for first place, Kelley none.

First place nomination, otherwise, included three for Hubbell, two each for Colorado's Glenn Morris and Georgia's Forrest (Spec) Towns, a pair of Olympic champions; one each for Lou Gehrig, baseball's iron man, and Dutch Clark, former Colorado college all-America quarterback and pro star since then with the Detroit Lions.

Here and There With The Journal's
Rambling County Editor
By T. N. (BRICK) GAINES

A ROSENBAUM attack on Archie Rosenbaum, the Sage of Carbone Canyon, Archie was expecting us, this time, and the welcome was rather warm. He meant it, too.

I'm going to form a Steak 'n Potatoes club, or something like that. Darn good company—Judge Halsey I. Spence and Constable Walter Skillman. Police Sergeant Johnny Gregory and a new member, Perry Maynerd, Fullerton scribe.

Constable Skill tried to pull his old trick on me—wouldn't tell where we were going, but I knew we were headed for Archie's before the car started. I also knew what we were going to have for supper. Steak in fried potatoes. Not just ordinary steak, either. Real, honest-to-goodness, he-man, inch-thick hunks of meat. The kind you always order and don't get. 'Twas wonderful!

Lots of talking about old times at Archie's Carbone canyon food emporium. Learned much, too. About how Judge Spence at one time carried papers. And shoveled snow. Things like that.

And about how Archie got his start in the fistfucking business. In case you don't know, Archie carved himself quite a place in the fist world at one time—early in the 1900's—fighting under the name of Jack Rose. He's just a little guy, even now, and at that time wasn't much over 100 pounds.

But he was telling about one of his first battles.

"It was just a tiny guy, see?" he said. "Here I was, with a pair of those high buttoned shoes and a derby hat. Just a young punk, not much more'n 10 years old. My brothers told me to stay on a certain corner to sell my papers. Strange town, and they were afraid I'd get lost if I wandered around any."

"So, I couldn't move away from that corner. And then in a few minutes, along comes a big guy, and pokes me in the nose. A good'n. And then he leaves. Fast. And I couldn't chase 'im, for fear I'd get lost."

Archie then tells how he met up with the "big guy" a little later. The nose-popper suffered, considerably.

He also told about some of his tough times on the road. Traveling with Abe Attell, the champ. They were traveling "tourist." On top of a passenger coach.

A town came along. It was the system to hide on the side of the coach opposite the town where the train'd stop, thus escaping detection from railroad men. They did it this time. Train stayed there awhile, and then started bumping cars around. They hugged the car roof, not even looking up.

Then they heard someone laughing. Looked up, and there they were, in a roundhouse. The train crew had shoved the car into the bright lights of the barn, and they were caught.

Kind-hearted trainmen let 'em loose, however.

Archie's full of stories like that. He tells 'em very well, too. But he cooks 'em better!

Speaking of cooking, Heinz Kaiser, who runs Bayshore Camp down at Newport along the Coast highway, makes cookies. Funny ones, all curly and twisted.

Which isn't anything unusual. But the name of 'em is! I couldn't spell it, much less write it down, when he told me what they were. I'm going to get that name one of these days, and it'll just about fill this column!

Harbormaster Tommy Bouchey and his assistant, Harold Caldwell, kindly offer to the editorial carcass in the bay at Newport, and it took some screaming and yowling on my part to escape a dripping death, on account of I can't swim.

They took exception to my criticism of their efforts to paint the official harbormaster's boat. Here they were, using paint remover on the nice, shiny varnish. All I wanted 'em to do was use sandpaper, instead. More exercise, that was my argument.

But they couldn't see it that way, and I almost had to run to escape my briny bath.

Incidentally, Harbormaster Tommy is all excited about his new office, which the city council's decided to build. Right out over the water on the Washington street pier, with windows so he can watch for speeding boats, and a comfortable place to transact his business, instead of the present engineer's shack on stilts.

"S'bout time!"

Here's your last chance! A few minutes after you read this it'll be too late to get tickets for the annual Coast association Christmas party at Costa Mesa. So you'd better call Mr. B. Sharpey or President Elmer Hughes or one of the other committeemen who're selling the much-prized duets.

Remember, it'll be turkey!

How'd This Happen

The question is: How did Edward Kerin, the driver, get out of this car, balanced on its nose, without upsetting it? The automobile poised in this fashion after plunging over a 15-foot wall into a creek bed at Denver. Kerin suffered a shoulder fracture. After he extricated himself, the car fell back against the wall. (Associated Press Photo)

Stell turning burning eyes upon Ellis.

"Rubbish! I simply see through such promotion schemes. Wars!"

"Oh, come now, Stell," said Ellis. "You exaggerate."

Stell's voice lashed out. "I'd like to meet Brandon face to face! I'd rip his precious trade pacts to shreds!"

Morley smiled to himself as Ellis abruptly rose and left the room.

Stell subsided weakly. "Stupid fool! He irritates me."

Morley asked blandly, "Just who and what is Mr. Ellis?"

It was Lon who answered. "He is a wealthy collector of Oriental art and jewels." He leaned forward, crossing his arms on this "Fu Watong jewels."

Stell started. "The Fu Watong jewels! Why, man, they are a collector's dream! How did Ellis get hold of them?"

Phil Lon shrugged. "Who knows?" He went on to explain to Morley. "The Fu Watong jewels were found in a historic temple. They were in seven urns representing, according to legend, Life, Youth, Wisdom, Health, Love, Progeny and Death. There were diamonds in the urn of Life, pearls for Wisdom, rubies for Death, and so on."

"And from which urn came Ellis' jewels?" Stell asked.

Lon grinned. "Perhaps Mr. Ellis has the diamonds. Or the pearls."

Morley got to his feet. "Or perhaps the rubies of 'Death,' he murmured. "How about a drink, gentlemen?"

Stell declined, but Phil Lon accepted quickly.

The cocktail lounge was crowded but Morley's alert eyes immediately found Sylvia Ames. She was with a tall, blond young man and a dark, exotic-looking girl.

"Miss Ames is often with Carl Van Doering," said Lon. "But he doesn't seem to have made much headway yet. Besides, he is undecided between Miss Ames and the other young lady, Rennie Stell."

"That's Stell's sister."

"They went to the bar and ordered drinks."

"Known John Ellis long?" Morley asked casually.

"I had the privilege of meeting him in Shanghai," Lon replied.

"What is his racket?"

"He is a gem collector, I told you."

"And what else?"

"The Chinese man, Morley's gaze. "I think," he said, "that there are many of us aboard this ship who are not what we pretend. Ellis, too, I'd say." He shrugged.

HONOR TEAM AT ORANGE BANQUET

LAGUNA BEACH.—Laguna residents are still arguing over the appearance last Saturday evening of three whales close inshore off the main beach.

The shallow-water jaunt was a feeding expedition near the help beds for the mammals, but local observers found it an opportunity for controversy.

In the short half-hour the visiting leviathans were present they were labeled everything from seals to sea serpents, including species of sharks, sea lions, sea cows, and surprisingly enough, whales.

No new provisions to the proposed "sardine law" were suggested to restrict the visitors.

Happy Workers Plan Yule Affair

WESTMINSTER.—Members of the Happy Workers' society of the Presbyterian church are planning a special program featuring a tree and gift exchange for their annual Christmas party scheduled Wednesday afternoon in the social hall of the church, according to an announcement made today by the president, Mrs. Linda McDaniel.

Pythian Sisters Elect Leaders

TUSTIN.—The thirteenth anniversary of the founding of Temple 27 was observed Thursday evening by the Pythian Sisters, who also held their election for the year.

Mrs. Beulah Hamilton was elected to the office of Most Excellent Chief for the coming term. In supporting offices, Mrs. Yvette Sheen will serve as most excellent senior; Mrs. Enid Wilson as most excellent junior; Mrs. Annette Forney as manager; Mrs. Nellie Flickas, protector; Mrs. Gladys Buche, guard; Mrs. Clara Blackwell, mistress of records and correspondence; Mrs. Nellie Thompson, mistress of finance; Mrs. Emma Christensen, press correspondent; Mrs. Carrie J. Stearns, installing officer, and Mrs. L. Walker, trustee.

Morley scowled. "I can't figure you out, Lon." He studied his glass. "Do you think I have some interest in—John Ellis?"

"Haven't you?" Lon asked blandly.

"You, too? Morley evaded. "Yes. But my interest is not the same as yours!"

Then, abruptly, he shut up like a clam.

Morley sighed. Sylvia, too, was interested in John Ellis. Sylvia and Phil Lon and he himself. And how many others?

Lon laid a hand on his arm. "There's our disagreeable Mr. Stell again. He doesn't like his sister's friendship with Van Doering."

Van Doering's voice reached Morley. "Don't be a fool, Stell! If you are fit to be Rennie's brother, I'm fit to be her friend."

10 UNDER 21 AWAIT SING SING CHAIR

Death House Is Called
'the High School' by
Other Prisoners

OSISING, N. Y. (AP).—With 10 youths under 21 years awaiting execution, the dreaded death house at Sing Sing prison is being called "the high school" today by the penitentiary's 2,450 prisoners.

The youngest is James Sullivan, the Brooklyn bldgeoner, who at 17 years beat to death a store-keeper for a paltry $9.

Warden Lewis E. Laws said that never in the history of criminology records of Sing Sing where nearly 400 have died since the chair was installed, has such a number of juvenile murderers awaited death.

First Goes Jan. 4
The first of the youths to go to the chair will be Salvatore Scata, who with five others, dies during the week of Jan. 4, 1937, for the robbery and murder of a Brooklyn subway employee. He is 18.

Three others die the week of Jan. 11. They are Lawrence Jackson, Wentworth Springer and Robert Taliaferro, all of whom killed during robberies.

Henry Stevens, Frederick Fowler and Charles Ham die during the week of Jan. 18. Ham is called a particularly "vicious" youth in the prison probation report. In one robbery, a butcher was slow in opening a strong box. Ham held the butcher's hand on a chopping block and chopped two fingers off.

Three Await Deaths
No dates have been set for the executions of Sullivan, Alfred Volckman or Charles Waterbury, because their cases are awaiting affirmation of sentence by the court of appeals, which seldom reverses a jury decision.

Warden Laws will have to put to death 15 men within 15 days and his views against capital punishment are well known.

By Feb. 15, all the 25—unless executive clemency is granted—will be executed and gaunt Robert Eliot, the executioner for Pennsylvania, New York, New Jersey and Massachusetts, will be $3,150 richer—plus expenses.

Gallant Gesture
Families of the condemned youths may visit three times a week until the week of execution. Then the other condemned men make the gallant gesture, as is customary in the death house.

They give up their privileges so that sorrowing mothers and other close relatives may visit every day those who "are going" that week. They've all changed from show-offs and wisecrackers in courtroom and on street corners, and now they are frightened young men who realize that death is just around the corner, Laws said.

WALLIS' OLD HOME WILL BE MUSEUM

BALTIMORE, (AP).—The unpretentious Biddle street house where Wallis Warfield Simpson spent her childhood has passed into the control of a corporation and may become a museum to attract those interested in the woman for whom a king left his throne.

J. Elmer Weisheit, attorney, disclosed that his brother and client, Allen Weisheit, who bought the house a year ago, had sold it to a merchant, Samuel J. Schleisner. Representatives of the owners did not specify what the Biddle street museum would contain, but they said it would be converted into a "local attraction" for the city and its guests.

STILL TURNING OUT KING EDWARD STAMPS

LONDON, (AP).—His Majesty's

post office will go right on printing stamps bearing Prince Edward's picture for the next few months.

Harassed officials said sales had skyrocketed far above the usual 20,000,000 a day figure on the day of abdication and afterwards, because of rumors the "Edward issue" would be instantly withdrawn.

Instead, the stamps will be printed steadily until King George VI approves his official portrait.

RUMOR HONEYMOON TO BE ON AMERICAN YACHT

NEW YORK, (AP).—The Daily News said it had learned from a "well informed source in Brooklyn and Camden, N. J., shipping circles" that former King Edward VIII and Mrs. Wallis Warfield Simpson would spend their honeymoon aboard an American yacht.

The yacht, the paper said, is the 279-foot diesel-engined Caroline II owned by Eldridge R. Johnson, former president of the Victor Talking Machine Company of Camden.

Deck officers, the paper stated, acknowledged the Caroline II was to sail today for a trans-Atlantic destination.

BIG CHRISTMAS SHOW AWAITS CHILDREN HERE NEXT SATURDAY

THEATER TO BE HOSTS

Broadway Playhouse Is to Be Setting for Gift Event

Next Saturday will be one of the biggest days of the year for boys and girls of Santa Ana.

That's the day when the doors of the Broadway theater will swing open for the annual big Christmas show for youngsters of this city, who will see a special show, every part of which has been selected especially for children by Manager Lester J. Fountain of the Broadway theater, cooperating with The Journal.

Every year boys and girls wait impatiently for the time of the big Christmas show. They have learned that they will not only see a thrilling show, but will have the time of their lives enjoying the company of hundreds of other children.

Children to Sing

This year Manager Fountain has arranged to present an added feature to the annual Christmas show program. This will be group singing of all the favorite Christmas songs just before the show starts. All of the children will sing the simple but lovely Christmas songs, accompanied by an organist at the huge organ. This will be only part of the fun.

It's easy to get in the show. All a boy or girl has to do is present his gift for some needy boy or girl at the door of the theater. This gift may consist of toys in good shape, clothing, or unperishable food. All of this material will be distributed to poor but deserving families of Santa Ana under the direction of Mrs. John Mills of the P. T. A., making sure that only children and families are aided who really need the help.

Play Santa Claus

Each year this show makes it possible for boys and girls to play the role of Santa Claus for some other kid, who otherwise might see a very unhappy Christmas. The children who play Santa Claus are chosen at the best time of the year—at Christmas. Children need no tickets for this Christmas show, needing only to bring their gift.

The entire show program is being donated to Santa Ana by the Warner Bros. motion picture company, which today promised to send down one of the most thrilling air adventure pictures ever produced, as the main feature. In addition, favorite cartoons and a comedy will be on the screen, meaning that there will not be a dull moment during the entire show.

Donate Time

All the employees of the Broadway are donating their services for the show, which has attracted a capacity crowd of children every year. Motion picture projectionists who are giving their time include Tom Jentges, Harold Mathews and Ralph Adams.

Doors of the theater will open around 9 o'clock to take care of the big crowd of youngsters expected. The show will start promptly at 9:30 a. m. Children who plan to attend were urged to start scurrying around right away, to find out what they will bring to the show, and to make sure that nothing interferes with their plans to attend.

Victim and Driver

Traffic death of Dewey Henning of Laguna Beach was blamed both on the victim and on Ralph T. Reed of Laguna Beach, driver of the death car, by a coroner's jury at Laguna Saturday.

The jury ruled that both Henning, who was struck as he stood there Dec. 3 surveying a minor in the street there Dec. 3 surveying a minor traffic accident, and Reed were negligent. Henning died last Thursday in St. Joseph's hospital.

HANDSOME 'BOY' IS A GIRL
Student Fools Classmates

MONTROSE, Colo. (AP).—A handsome student, known as a boy, at Homerside High school turned out to be a girl today.

School officials said the student, who for four months has masqueraded as a boy under the name of Joe Coberly, is really Helen Coberly, whose parents live at Trinidad.

Her disguise was discovered after she had told her instructors she would not be in school this week. The girl had deceived schoolmates and teachers completely with her boy's garb and sleek, masculine haircut. The school principal even had recommended "him" to a Montrose family for part time employment as a chore boy and "Joe" had done such odd jobs as digging ditches and mending fences.

"I never liked girl clothes," the girl said after telling how she had decided to enroll in school in September as "Joe Coberly."

The girl, a sophomore, recently was elected president of the boys' Sunday school class. Classmates had regarded her as one of the most handsome "boys" in the school.

ASKS SPACE FOR BUYERS' CARS
AQUEDUCT JOB
HALF DONE

Residents of Santa Ana were urged today to help make this a banner Christmas shopping season for this city by strict observance of the parking rules of the city.

J. C. Metzger, manager of the Home Owned Business association, directed the appeal today to all business men, professional men and their employees, as well as to city and county officials and employees. Metzger asked that these groups cooperate in furnishing all possible parking space in the downtown business district by leaving their cars home or several blocks away from their work until after Christmas.

This plan, he said, would alleviate the increased traffic congestion and Santa Ana would gain materially by increased business and prestige as the "Friendly City."

SIX STOCKINGS
FOR F. D. R.

WASHINGTON. (AP)—The illness of Franklin Roosevelt, jr., threatened today to upset some of the White House holiday plans, but the President probably will open his eyes Christmas morning on six bulging stockings dangling from his bedroom mantel.

If he as much as clears his throat, his last 40 winks will be ruined. Outside the door in all probability will be four small grandchildren, waiting to burst in on him and the stack of gifts by his fireplace.

Down the hall in a temporary nursery will be two even smaller Roosevelts, ready to be carried in for their first Christmas tree.

Franklin, jr., may be forced to remain in a Boston hospital because of a serious sinus infection, but the other members of the family are planning for a gathering of the clan.

PAST HEADS TO DINE

Past matrons and patrons of Santa Ana chapter, Order of Eastern Star, will have a covered-dish dinner at 6:30 p. m. Wednesday in the Masonic temple, followed by a Christmas gift exchange.

Wilson, Calif., attending the organization's annual exhibition of scientific research, said astronomical work this year also had disclosed the brightest star in the universe, a super nova, or new star, 20,000 times brighter than the sun, and another star which probably weighs several thousand tons per square inch.

The most distant star, he added, is a faint cluster of nebulae almost at the outer limit of space which can be observed through the 100-inch telescope at Mt. Wilson.

Armstrong Tells Market
Situation at Farm
Convention

BAKERSFIELD. (AP)—Sale of citrus fruits to foreign markets, which took several thousand cars last season, is now practically at a standstill because of strikes, Paul S. Armstrong, general manager of the California Fruit Growers exchange, today told the 69th convention of the California fruit growers and farmers here.

"Likewise," continued Armstrong, "coastwise and inter-coastal water shipments have had to be diverted to rail at an additional cost of about $25,000 per month."

Greater Buying Power

Armstrong said the past season "was a pretty good one" for citrus growers with good production, and he cited continued improvement in the buying power of the great mass of consumers as the most favorable factor for 1937.

Commenting on the foreign situation, Armstrong said:

"Latest reports were that, despite the serious war situation, normal supplies of Spanish oranges would be shipped to England for the holiday season and that Russia and other countries might take quantities of this fruit. Limited quantities of California navel oranges en route to Europe via rail to New York," he disclosed.

Juice Canning

He said that California navel oranges were giving excellent consumer satisfaction and outselling Florida oranges everywhere, although price levels are too low due to above normal supplies of Florida oranges and grapefruit.

Over one million cases of orange juice were canned last season, compared to 817,000 cases in 1935. The price to packing houses on valencias for canning was reported doubled this year due to the shortage of fruit and to the better bargaining position of the growers brought about by the exchange "juice canning pool."

Border Inspection

A. A. Brock, state director of agriculture, told delegates he understands a "concerted effort" will be made at the coming session of the legislature to change border inspection to conform to the ideas of tourists coming into California.

"Tinkering with California's plant quarantine laws so they will conform to the ideas of tourists might prevent the state doing a thorough job of protecting agriculture from new insect pests and plant diseases," Brock declared.

"The money spent for that purpose might be wasted and new plant pests could more readily be brought into the state, making additional burdens for the farmers to contend with."

CRILL TO TELL OF FARM MEET

Members of the Tustin Farm center who did not attend the American Farm bureau convention in Pasadena last week will hear highlights and humorous incidents of the gathering Wednesday night at a pot-luck dinner and meeting in the high school cafeteria.

John W. Crill of Garden Grove, who was chairman of the reception committee, will be the speaker. An accordion band of 25 members will provide entertainment.

Hundreds of delegates are remaining in California for the Tournament of Roses and the Rose bowl football game, it was reported in Pasadena.

As the convention closed Friday, delegates took trips to Catalina island and other points of interest in Southern California. "California is the best host in the country," President Edward A. O'Neal of the federation said. "I think this convention was the best in the federation's history."

Santa and the Viking

BY SIGRID ARNE

THE STORY SO FAR: The Fairy Queen has entered the palace of the Ice Queen to see if she can help rescue Gudrun, the daughter of Nils, the Viking. Nils waits outside with two of Santa's toys.

CHAPTER SEVEN

THE FAIRY QUEEN'S TRICK

When the Fairy Queen flew off to the Ice Queen's palace, she had a very clever idea. She had decided not to permit the Ice Queen to see her. She knew the Ice Queen's cruel strength, and that she would have to trick the chilly lady.

But she suspected something and I would never guess. She felt there was a love of flowers in the Ice Queen's cold heart. That seems strange, maybe, because when the Ice Queen arrives at our homes in early winter the leaves drop from the trees in fright, and all the flowers die. But that happens because Ice Queen is so rough. She really wants to gather the flowers, but when she does pick them they die in her cold hand.

A Red Rose Sprang Up

So the Fairy Queen slipped quietly through a window and stood surveying the Ice Queen's throne room. She slid down a shaft of light, and right in front of the Ice Queen's feet she tapped the floor with her tiny foot. The strangest thing happened. Pop, a beautiful red rose sprang from the floor!

That surprised the Ice Queen, I can assure you. She leaned forward and picked the rose. It wilted in her hand. But the Fairy Queen flew a few feet away, tapped the floor again, and another rose sprang from the floor. The Ice Queen ran for it.

She picked the second rose, and it wilted like the first one had. Can you see what the Fairy Queen was doing? She was coaxing the Ice Queen along her big throne room, down the halls and finally outside the palace.

"Now We Can Enter"

She even passed Nils and Mister and Captain Buttons on the hill outside without noticing them, she was so absorbed in running after the parade of magic flowers. In a few minutes she had disappeared over a hill.

"Well, I declare," said Nils. "Wasn't that clever? Now we can enter the palace."

"Just like a woman—a trick," said Captain Buttons. "Now there's a dancing doll back in Toyland!"

"Hush!" snapped Mister, the pup. "You're always bragging. Let's get into the palace while we have time."

"Yes, let's hurry," said Nils, picking up the toys and running down the hill to the palace gates.

Tomorrow: Nils finds Gudrun.

SANTA HAILED
AS NATION'S FAVORITE

Writer Tells Origin of American 'Saint' in December Magazine

BERKELEY.—While football critics are naming all-Americans on the gridiron, Douglas Chretien, instructor in public speaking at the University of California, has named as his triple-threat, all-American, that universal favorite—Santa Claus.

Writing in the December issue of the California Monthly, Chretien points out that Santa is largely an American invention. He supports this claim by showing that the word, Santa, would be feminine in any language but our own. Thus St. Nicholas, Father Christmas and Kris Kringle of European fame are but distant cousins of the American variety of Christmas saint.

Santa Claus, says the article, was derived from St. Nicholas of Myra who lived in Asia Minor during the fourth century and whose feast day was on Dec. 6. During the Protestant revolt, saints became unpopular and the feast day became mixed up with the German Kris Kringle, and the story of the Three Wise Men and the Christ Child.

In 1823 a poem by Clement Clarke Moore, entitled "A Visit from St. Nicholas," first depicted him as clad in furs, traveling in a sled pulled by reindeer and coming down chimneys to distribute gifts. Santa Claus finally attained his present proportions under the pen of Thomas Nast, famed cartoonist who is more famed for his depiction of the Tammany Tiger. Nast filled a book with sketches of Santa Claus in his modern form from 1863-66. The only change since Nast's time has been to clothe Santa in a red and white cloth uniform instead of his former fur suit.

Concluding Performance of 'Judgment Day' Is Incentive for Entertaining

Board Fetes Community Players

Buffet Supper Served In Mayor's Office Saturday Night

A fitting climax to the excitement and fun of working in the last week's production of "Judgment Day" by the Santa Ana Community Players was the lovely party given after the final presentation by the executive board of the Players.

Not only were players invited, but their husbands, wives and guests—and Mrs. Harry Hanson and Mrs. Fred Rowland had prepared heaping plates of sandwiches, cookies, cakes, nuts, candies, and innumerable other goodies.

They were arranged on two long tables set up in Mayor Rowland's office. Vivid red runners and blazing scarlet tapers carried out a Christmas theme that was echoed in the gay chatter and friendly conversation amid those partaking of the feast.

Harry Hanson and Mayor Rowland were efficient and more than hospitable hosts, busy themselves with pouring coffee and serving refills.

Among those attending the event with other guests were Mr. and Mrs. Burr Shaffer, Mr. and Mrs. Gordon X. Richmond, Mr. and Mrs. Ray Adkinson, Mr. and Mrs. John M. Swarthout, George Tobias, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Guild, Mrs. Walter Guild, Franklin West, Mr. and Mrs. Harold H. Fish, Claude Blakemore, Walter Prill, Daniel Brown, Mr. and Mrs. John K. WOMEN LUNCH AND PLAY CARDS

A gay little group of friends enjoyed a luncheon together at Daniger's on Friday afternoon, later going to the home of Mrs. H. D. McIlvaine, 2448 Riverside Drive, where they had a Christmas gift exchange and played contract through the afternoon.

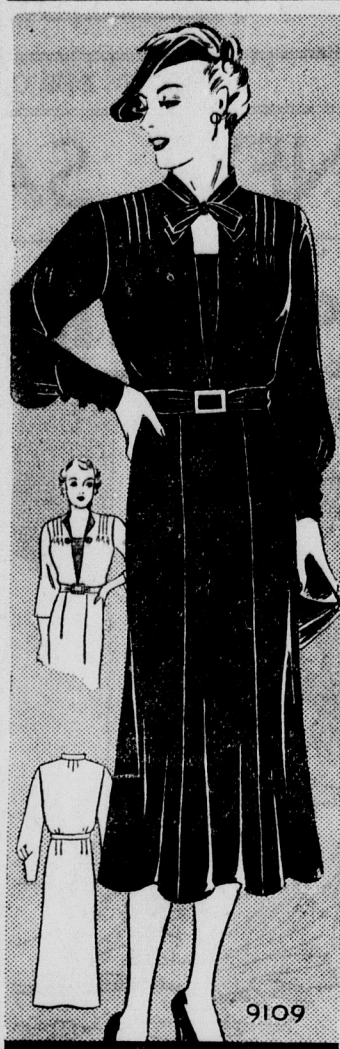

They included Mrs. A. N. Zerman, Mrs. Anna James, Mrs. Bernice Berry, Mrs. J. Bohlander, Mrs. Margaret Church, Mrs. Alvin No-wotny, Mrs. Roy Ivens, and the hostess.

REINHAUSES TO ENTERTAIN

Party Series Carried On By Pair

Continuing the series which they started a week ago, Saturday, Mrs. R. C. Holles and her daughter-in-law, Mrs. Clarence Holles, entertained at another pretty luncheon last Saturday in the former's home on Victoria Drive.

A blue and silver motif marked the small tables at which the one o'clock luncheon was served before the card games, flowers in blue and white tones filling little silver bowls as centerpieces.

After the card playing had ended, scores were tallied for a prize at each table and one high prize which went to Mrs. Howard Rapp. The other awards were presented to Mrs. Richard Enison, Mrs. Hugh Lowe, Mrs. Anton Segerstrom, Mrs. J. D. Roberts, Mrs. A. L. Melenthin, and Mrs. Don Andrews.

The hostesses, who also entertained a week ago, were assisted in this latter party by Mrs. Will Flood of Pasadena and Mrs. Leonard Swales.

SILVER TEA GIVEN BY P-T. A. BOARD

Winter afternoons are a time for tea and Christmas the time for caroling. Lowell Parent-Teacher association board members combined the two recently in a delightful afternoon benefit staged at the school at the close of their December board session.

Aprons, towels, pot holders, and other handmade Christmas suggestions were sold, and a silver tea followed a program of music and dancing by a group of young artists.

Six grade glee club furnished the lovely Christmas carols, singing "Oh, Holy Night" and "Christmas Cheer." Dancers from the Vera Getty studios, the tiniest ones appearing first, followed with delightful numbers, Linda Huber, Dorothy May Haan, Ruth Lee Dove, May McNeill and Iris Lee Wilson dancing in one group; Yvonne Stroud doing "The Organ Grinder's Swing," Carolyn Davis and Carolyn Smith "The French Doll Dance," Babs Markwood and Jane McKee a "Military Dance," and Janet Martin accompanying. Mesdames Louise Marchant, Floyd Rogers and E. H. Leue assisted in serving cake and coffee. Mrs. Harry LeBar was general chairman of the entire affair, and was assisted by the Mesdames George Spielman, James F. McWilliams and L. L. Juden.

V. F. W. POST AND AUXILIARY DINE

A pot-luck dinner for approximately 60 people was served last Friday night by the Ernest L. Kellogg Post and auxiliary of the Veterans of Foreign Wars at the Pythian hall. Many attending were guests from Belvedere Gardens, Garden Grove, Orange and Tustin.

After dinner, a cake donated by Mrs. L. S. Stitt was auctioned off for the organization's Christmas fund, and was won by George Hubbard.

Bridge and five hundred were enjoyed by the group after several guitar and vocal numbers by a professional entertainer.

The dinner was arranged and served by Mrs. Edna McCleary, Mrs. Lurline Clayton, Mrs. Irene Miles, Mrs. Gladys Halme, and Mrs. Vera Pope.

Lamb Family Has Yule Party

Family gatherings are marking the holiday season for Santa Anans, some of them planning reunions during the weeks before Christmas, and among these latter were the Hugo J. Lambs of 530 South Sycamore street.

Their home was the setting last week for an informal Christmas party, when members of their family from various towns in and around the county gathered for several enjoyable hours of festivity together.

The Christmas tree with its bright decorations was the center of interest in the living room, and an exchange of gifts added to the merriment occasioned by the games which had been arranged by the hosts.

Missing in the family reunion was Miss Alice Lamb, a daughter of the home, who will return home next Friday from Santa Barbara State college to spend the vacation with her family. The other daughter, Mrs. George Winter (Miss Lamb), bride but two months, and her husband, were there, and others participating in the good times were the following:

Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Worth and daughter, Barbara, of Van Nuys; Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Davis and son, Floyd and Gene, of Los Angeles; Mr. and Mrs. Harman Roberson and daughter, Jodie, of El Monte; Mrs. Minnie Porter and son, Norman, of Bellflower; Mrs. Emma Pryor, Mrs. C. A. Stockton, and Mr. and Mrs. Conrad Worth of Huntington Beach; Mr. and Mrs. James Sewell and son, Buddy, of Surfside; Mrs. Minnie Johnson of Santa Ana; Mr. and Mrs. Carl J. J. Whittier, Mr. and Mrs. D. G. Wetlin of Orange, Mr. and Mrs. Earl Pryor of Midway City, Mr. and Mrs. Dean Benton of Hollywood, and the host and hostess.

PIANO PARTIES PLANNED FOR HOLIDAYS

Ten boy pupils of Mrs. J. Orland Smith of Garden Grove opened a series of piano parties planned by their teacher during the holidays when they had their party Saturday afternoon at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Leon Landbach at 1805 North Spurgeon street in Santa Ana.

Participants and their selections were Ernest Fritcher, playing "The Bumble Bee" by Kammerer and "The Spinning Wheel" by Hill; Eugene Perkins, "Outward Bound," "The Ocean Roll," and "On Scotland's Bonnie Shore," by John Thompson, and Buddy Mauerhan, "Christmas Bells," by Williams, these three from Garden Grove.

Eugene Ballow, "Drifting," by Williams; Billy West, "Keep in Step," by Johnson; Terry Ragan, "Good Night, Comrades," "Good-Bye Old Year," by Williams; Bruce Ragan, "Swaying Daffodils" and "Overlode"; Kenneth Anderson, "Gentle Night," by Williams; Robert Jewell, "Dream Boat," by Williams; and Victor Landbach, "Taps," by Wilson, these players all Santa Anans.

As Christmas gifts, Mrs. Smith presented each boy with a sheet of music, and refreshments were served at the close.

The next piano party will be for 16 elementary and intermediate girls next Saturday afternoon at the Ray Jewell home, 1419 North Rose street, and the final of the series, for six advanced students, at the home of the instructor, 415 East Stanford avenue, Garden Grove, on Dec. 30.

RAINBOW CIRCLE HONORS COUPLE

When Mrs. L. Walkinshaw entertained members of the Rainbow circle at her North Parton street home Friday afternoon, it was not only to serve a delicious luncheon and be hostess to the annual Christmas gift exchange party of the group, but to particularly honor Mr. and Mrs. Will Hatch on the occasion of their twenty-fifth wedding anniversary.

The club presented the honored couple with a lovely gift during the delicious covered dish luncheon served at a festive table decorated in the Christmas motif, and later the members had their own gift exchange.

The remainder of the afternoon was spent in needlework, with interesting discussions of handicrafts, a venture which will be entered into during the coming year.

Those present, beside the hostesses, were Mrs. Will Hatch of Arcadia, Mrs. L. O. Warner of Covina, Mrs. Scott Torrens and Mrs. Adamson of Tustin, Mrs. A. E. Kohler, Mrs. Joe Thompson and Mrs. Roy Kelchner of Santa Ana, Mrs. John Milligan of Clay Center, Kans., Mrs. Downey, and Miss Margaret Walkinshaw.

Job's Daughters are extending a cordial invitation to the public to attend their installation of officers tomorrow night at 8 o'clock on the third floor of the Masonic temple.

Open ceremonies are planned, and installation of Miss Charlotte McCausland as new honored queen will be a feature of the evening.

SECOND BOOK REVIEW
Mrs. Merritt White will review several of the most recent books for members of Junior Ebell's second book review section when they meet at 7:30 p. m. tomorrow at the home of Miss Muriel Mataen, 2425 Riverside Drive.

Prosperity Is Dinner Theme

Heralding prosperity as the theme of their dinner, members of the Goodfellowship club of Santa Ana branch, American National Life Insurance company, entertained their ladies Saturday night at a banquet at Danigers.

Guests were ushered into the small dining room to music by the Red Lantern trio and were seated at a U-shaped table decorated with dull rose chrysanthemums matching the pottery dinner service, and with candles here and there down the lengths.

H. C. Tolkein, local manager, led in singing of "Auld Lang Syne," and in intervals between courses music was furnished by the instrumental trio, by Miss Onelia A. Ames, pianist, and by George Honore, 10-year-old accordionist.

Mr. Tolkein spoke briefly, and the two chief speakers of the evening were G. D. Thompson, agency organizer, and D. C. Lange, superintendent of the Los Angeles district.

Bouquets of lovely flowers were presented to Mr. Tolkein's mother and to Mrs. Lange and Mrs. Thompson.

Earlier on the program, Mrs. Letta C. James of Balboa read very beautifully a group of poems by Edgar Guest.

W. C. Gibbons of Laguna Beach was the toastmaster, introducing the program numbers, and his wife, who is a granddaughter of the great German shipbuilder, Tecklenburg, assisted him in host duties.

Members of the Santa Ana staff, wives and guests enjoying the affair were H. C. Tolkein, manager of the local branch; Mrs. Mary L. Tolkein, his mother; Mrs. C. Burley, his sister; W. C. Armfield, secretary-treasurer and Mrs. Armfield; Mr. and Mrs. Gibbons of Laguna Beach; Mr. and Mrs. W. W. Willard, Mr. and Mrs. C. L. James of Balboa, Mr. and Mrs. H. L. Broder, Mr. and Mrs. J. Jones, Mr. and Mrs. C. W. Fowler, Mr. and Mrs. Lange, Mr. and Mrs. Thompson, Miss Ames, George Honore, Dr. Mary E. Wright, and the trio members, Shadow Carlisle, Church Jesse and Riley Mathis.

TRAVEL TALK ENJOYED BY EBELL SECTION

Mrs. Roscoe Hewitt told third household economics members of Ebell club about her recent trip to Central America Friday when the group met for luncheon and a delightful afternoon at the clubhouse lounge.

Mrs. Lena G. Hewitt, Mrs. Walter Hickey, and Mrs. A. Thorndyke were co-hostesses at the luncheon, which was served at tables beautifully decorated with red carnations and Christmas appointments.

A gift exchange around the Christmas tree followed the program, the members welcoming in their group that afternoon one guest, Mrs. Frank Hillgass of San Pedro, a former Santa Ana, who is spending some time here during the strike in her home town.

In January, the section will entertain members of the sixth household economics group at their meeting.

FRIENDS GATHER OVER WEEK-END

Mrs. Annette Smith of 1416 North Broadway had as week-end guests her son and his family, Mr. and Mrs. A. M. Smith, and their daughter, Patricia Annette of Los Angeles.

On Sunday, she invited friends to dine with them at her home, these additional guests including Mr. and Mrs. Harry Malpass and the former's brother, Arthur Malpass, of Santa Monica and Mrs. Ellen Thomas and Miss Jennie Thomas of Venice.

Mary Stoddard Difference in Ages Is Insurmountable Barrier to Marital Happiness

By MARY STODDARD

She's 17. He's 15 years her senior. They love one another and wish to marry, but everyone who knows them advises her not to do it now or several years later.

In a quandary, she wrote this department for the opinion of our readers and signed herself "Serious Seventeen," because she doesn't care for lively crowds nor is she interested in most of the things those of her own age are. She wants to plan a home and settle down with this man she is sure she can never forget.

Is 15 years too great a difference? Can these years which the man has lived ahead of the girl be wished to marry always be bridged with mutual interests and an unselfish love that will insure the happiness of both "ever afterward?"

Comment from some of our readers follow:

Dear Miss Stoddard: I have never written you before, but after reading "Serious Seventeen's" letter I have decided to write in answer to her call for advice from your readers. I am not against such marriages if the woman is years older than "Serious Seventeen," but I will say that she is far too young to even consider such a thing. Of course that is only my opinion.

Let me tell you my experience: When I was just 17 I met and thought I fell in love with a man 36 years old. And too, he was full of fun and forever taking me places.

Everything my mother told me just went in one ear and out the other, for wasn't I much older for my age than other girls? To make a long story short, I married him and thought I must be the happiest person in the world, but my happiness was short-lived. We had been married about two months and I expressed a longing to go to a dance again. Although he didn't care very much about going, he took me. I think that one was the most miserable night of my life.

When I danced with his friends, of which he gloomily gave permission, he watched on with the most hateful look of jealousy to be described.

The outcome was that he became so jealous of his younger men friends when they as much as smiled at me that he actually began gloomily going out with them when his back was turned and as a result I grew to hate him more and more each day.

All of my trouble was caused over the difference in our ages. Because of his constant fear that I might meet some other younger man and cease to care for him.

Now for the first time in my life I am really happy, for I am married to a man only three years my senior and we have a lovely baby girl.

I hope that somehow this letter may give "Serious Seventeen" some answer to her solution and may she find someone younger that she may turn to and forget this man.

TWICE MARRIED.
Opposite Viewpoint.

Dear Miss Stoddard: I have read "Serious Seventeen's" letter and I have thought over her problem carefully.

I have had matrimonial experience and know something about it. I would like to say to "Serious Seventeen," marry him. A difference of 15 years in age should make no difference when he is her senior. When she is 40 he will be only 55—just a fine couple. So my advice to her would be, forget about the slight difference in ages and marry the man she loves.

After successful performance of their class play Friday evening at the high school auditorium, juniors of Tustin Union High school took part in the cast were entertained at a delightful buffet supper at the home of Mr. and Mrs. L. R. Stearns.

Red poinsettias and green tapers in a crystal bowl centered the lace-covered table from which the supper was served, and green tapers in crystal holders formed the illumination in the dining room.

Mrs. Robinson assisted in entertaining and serving, as did also Mrs. M. B. Henry, Mr. and Mrs. H. H. Hannaford, and Miss Elizabeth Robinson of Tustin, and the Misses Shirley Wade and Pauline Stearns of Orange.

FLOWER ARTIST RECEIVES AT TWO TEAS

Opening her home on Gold Hill, Monrovia, and the grounds surrounding it for two lovely Christmas teas over the week-end, Miss Clara Cronewett, noted artist of flowers and color, included a number of Santa Anans among her guests yesterday afternoon.

Among those participating in the artist's hospitality and delighting in the flower and fruit arrangements which she had made as interesting exhibits for her guests, were Mr. and Mrs. Jack Hill, Mr. and Mrs. Aubrey Glines, Mr. L. D. Coffing, Mrs. Jack Wiley, Mrs. J. H. Lippitt, Mrs. Golden Weston, Mrs. Perry Grout, Mrs. R. A. Emison, Mrs. L. R. Kennedy, Mrs. Mabel Dixon, Mrs. W. H. Spurr, Miss Jean Goodwin, Miss Frances Egge, Arthur Ames, and Donald Butten, all from Santa Ana.

One of the most unique designs noted in Miss Cronewett's annual Christmas exhibit was a "flat" Christmas tree made of fern fronds and ribbons on a wall of one room. Another reception was held by the artist on Saturday afternoon.

Trim New Slip Covers Are Easy to Make

Smart new slip covers certainly perk up your living-room. You can turn out a shipshape job all by yourself—easily and inexpensively.

Get a snug fit by pinning fabric to the chair. Set pins into seams of old upholstery as you see here. Cut along pin lines leaving 1 1/2 inches for seam allowance. Now pin fabric to other sections of chair. Basting, fitting and stitching are simple.

A sofa's covered the same easy way, using 3 lengths of fabric down the back instead of one.

Our 32-page booklet gives complete diagrammed directions for slip covers you'll be proud of. How to measure for yardage, choose fabric, shape, cut, stitch and trim. Tips for all types of chairs and sofas. Directions for sofa cushions and auto seat covers.

Send 10 cents for your copy of How to Make Slip Covers to The Santa Ana Journal, Home Service, 117 East Fifth street, Santa Ana. Be sure to write plainly your name, address, and the name of booklet.

RADIO TELLS OFFICER'S TREASON

Treason is a despicable crime, whether against a man's native land or against an integral part of its government such as a police department.

This, in brief, is the theme of "The Criminal Policeman," a true-to-fact drama which comprises the one hundred fifty-fifth "Calling All Cars" broadcast to be made from KVOE tonight at 7:30.

It is the story of that rare type of officer who, although he had sworn to uphold the law, turned criminal himself—obsessed with the idea that his inside knowledge of police department operations gave him a top-heavy advantage over even the cleverest of criminals on the outside.

A cast of notable actors, with the atmospheric music of Frederick Stark's orchestra, and the narration of Charles Frederick Lindley, will be features of tonight's true story re-enactment.

Those surprised were the guests who had been invited to an engagement reception in the Beechcroft association hall. When the guests arrived, they found a placard announcing the marriage of Justice Salvatore A. Cotto of New York supreme court performed the ceremony which was attended by the families of the couple. The bridegroom's parents, Mayor Howard W. Jackson of Baltimore and Mrs. Jackson were present.

Cough Is Sign Of Irritation

By CLAUD N. CHRISMAN, M. D.

Br-r-r-r! A cold wind this morning. Every person who comes into the warm building begins some sort of a throat demonstration. Of course colds are common during this between-season, but nine out of 10 of the persons who are coughing assure me that they have no cold at all, "just a tickle in my throat, Doctor."

That is what most coughs are, just an irritation, but we do not know what makes the irritation and cannot get relief until we have found it.

The purpose of a cough remedy is to alleviate the effort to rid the respiratory tract of this obstruction or annoyance.

In the upper and back part of the nose the mucous membranes are extremely sensitive to irritation. A very delicate touch is enough to cause sneezing and coughing.

When any of these sensitive points become inflamed or irritated, we cough. Some throats are very difficult to treat because any attempt to approach them with any sort of instrument will set up a reaction. Many irritants are carried in the air, like dust or soot; a change from hot or cold air to the opposite, like coming in from outdoors, or going out into the cold.

Sometimes it takes no more than an odor that makes the excitement and more than that the mere suggestion is enough to start some folks. The chronic asthmatic with his continual struggle for breath probably has a point of irritation somewhere in his throat or nose.

Many chronic coughs are not due to disease but to some entirely local disturbance. So many patients say, "Something in my throat feels like a pin prick or like a little hard kernel lodged there. I cough and cough, but it will not come loose." If only a sensitive little nerve ending, but it causes as much discomfort and mental distress as it would if it were a real particle or pin prick.

Occasionally the point of irritation is in the ear. It could be hardened wax or the movement of an insect that has found his way into the canal. Cough syrups and lozenges are very good for temporary relief, but the cough will continue until the source is found and the cause eliminated.

Stitch This Foxy Little Terrier

Household Arts by Alice Brooks

He's a foxy little terrier, is Fido, and the most fun to work in 8 to the inch cross stitch. Could dish-drying be anything but a joy when this alert little companion, embroidered on a set of tea towels, is there to help you? Watch him hurdle the silver, roll the china and glassware. Fun for child or grownup to stitch, these motifs are liveliest in gay colors. In pattern 5746 you will find a transfer pattern of six motifs averaging 5 x 8 1/2 inches; material requirements; color suggestions; illustrations of all stitches used.

So often this pattern sent 10 cents in stamps or coin (coin preferred) to The Journal, Household Arts Dept., 117 East Fifth Street, Santa Ana. Be sure to write plainly your NAME, ADDRESS and

All of us like to serve desserts with a company air occasionally, especially for Sunday dinners or suppers when guests are likely to drop in. A few of the fussier desserts take extra time for preparation but not all of them as the following recipes will prove:

Cranberry Upside Down Cake
Cream 1/2 cup shortening and add 1 cup sugar, beating well. Add 2 beaten eggs and 1 teaspoon vanilla. Add 3 cups flour that has been sifted with 3 teaspoons baking powder and 1/2 teaspoon salt, alternately with 1 cup milk. Mix well. Melt 3 tablespoons butter in a heavy pan, add 1 cup sugar and 2 cups washed and dried cranberries. Pour in the cake mixture and bake in a moderate oven about 1 hour—until done when tested by inserting a straw in the center.

Jealous War Lords

NOW THAT the British have hurdled their recent unpleasantness with only one barrier—Edward VIII—tipped over, China decides to grab some front page space in the newspapers.

It appears that jealousy over who's going to be kingpin in that vast Oriental nation is responsible for China's present difficulty. Generalissimo Chiang Kai-Shek, dictator of his slant-eyed brethren, doesn't care a great deal for Marshal Chang Hsiao-Liang, former war lord of Manchuria. Chang is reported to entertain similar feelings about Chiang.

So when Chiang wanders about in the sticks and makes the mistake of walking on the grass in Chang's front yard, Chang and his cutthroats revert to an old Chinese custom and kidnap Chiang. Naturally Chang has an explanation for this bold "snatch." He says he did it to force China to declare war on Japan.

And why does Chang want to declare war on Japan? Elemental, dear readers. A few years ago the Japanese grabbed Manchuria, thereby kicking Chang out of a highly lucrative job, and now Chang thinks if China declares war on Japan he stands a good chance of war-lording it over Manchuria once again.

We feel safe in saying Uncle Sam and his 130,000,000 nephews and nieces will go about their business as usual and let China and Japan strictly alone should they decide to embark on that nasty sport of reducing population commonly known as war.

Get-rich-quick business suggestion: Making chairs for "sit down" strikers.

It's Time for Agreement

IT'S TIME for the Orange county joint outfall sewer board to sit down, cast away all old prejudices, and reach an amiable agreement on repairs to the line reaching to the ocean.

For months the board has been deadlocked over the choice between concrete and vitrified clay pipe, with Santa Ana demanding the former and the other member cities and districts demanding the latter.

And under the clumsy set-up of the board, all members must agree before work can be done.

No matter which of the two materials will be the most costly in the long run, the costliest item will be the further delay of repairs.

The other members are considering a lawsuit against Santa Ana. However it comes out, it will add expense and ill feeling to the present problem.

If the disagreement continues, and the northern members choose their other alternative of running a sewer line parallel to the present one, it means the double expense of two lines. No one wins either way.

There are sound arguments for either type of sewer material. There are reasonable, sincere men on the board. They ought to be able to forget the old battle and reach a common decision.

The fellow due for immortality is the man who will invent a Christmas toy that stays wound up.

We Have an Election

FRANKLIN D. ROOSEVELT was re-elected President of the United States today by a vote of 531 to 8 for Gov. Alf M. Landon of Kansas.

How come, you ask. Didn't we vote F. D. R. into office more than a month ago by a vote of 27,751,612 to 16,681,913 for Landon?

No, you just thought you did. Under the outlandish system of voting on a president of these United States, you merely gave an indication Nov. 3 on the man you wanted in that office. The election really took place today when 539 members of the electoral college met in their respective state capitals and cast their votes.

A lot of hokum, say we. But the constitution specifies that's the way we have to do it—and hang the expense.

We hear rumors that there will be a few proposed constitutional amendments discussed by the next congress. Why not include this one on the list and get the real lowdown on why this cumbersome election procedure should remain in that historic document in this strictly modern age.

High school news: Machine has been invented to solve algebra problems.

Mr. Irvine Says 'Yes'

WHEN James Irvine announced exclusively to The Journal Saturday that he had placed his stamp of approval on Orange county's revised water program, proponents of the plan throughout the county more than likely took a deep collective breath, sighed with relief and remarked, "It can't fail now."

And so it shouldn't.

With memories of past elections on that all-important matter still fresh, the announcement that Orange county's largest landowner had rallied to the support of the water plan because of the elimination of several features he felt were objectionable undoubtedly will swing all other former opponents over to the program, except, of course, those chronic "agin'ers" who vote "no" on everything.

But even though 99 per cent of the voters are now in favor of the program, they must remember one important factor: A "yes" vote is not a vote unless it is placed in the ballot box, and an election is not won unless every supporter goes to bat for the measure with a determination to see that it IS carried.

Whimsies of O. O. McIntyre

Diary: Out with my lady to see a brave exhibit of Fred Detwiler's etchings. And stopped in at Lebus for a platter of Kentucky ham festooned with kirsch soaked oranges. Then to call on Rose Rothapel, Roxie's widow, newly home from Europe.

In the afternoon a magazine fellow came and asked my ambition of the moment and when I said to play Ravel's Bolero on the xylophone and stuck to it, he seemed in a huff. So in the twilight to circle the swan pond in the park and down the avenue, catching step with Eddy Duchin.

Dinner at a cozy French place, Du Pierrot and Leslie Howard, the play actor there. And at another table Irene Dunne, the cinema lady, and at still another Charles Laughton or his double. Afterward to see Noel Coward and Gertrude Lawrence in a cycle of skits.

No wonder dogs siphon our sympathies so. The most severe punishment meted to our Boston nimble is to shoo him into a dark closet a moment or so after some outrageous caper. Today in a frenzy of frolic he jumped upon a taborette of nick-nacks, scattering some and breaking a few. He knew he had kicked a commandment so he turned meekly and scratched at the closet door to be imprisoned. A picture of utter humility, bless him!

Fame: The great avenue jewelry house of Cartier has three plaques on its walls to commemorate the patronage of royalty. One of Queen Marie, another of former King Edward when he was Wales and last the tragic Queen Marie of Spain. There is a certain department store glove counter with all brass strips embossing chair back with: The Great Garbo chair, the Norma Shearer chair, the Joan Crawford chair, etc. And then the hot dog hut at the Polo Grounds with a post sign: "Right here, after knocking out three home runs, Babe Ruth downed four of our hamburgers."

Sudden thought: What an inspiration for growing young womanhood in the spectacle of an ex-patriate dancer out of burlesque becoming a society pet!

The exodus of adventurous, beautiful New York women—Peggy Joyce, for example—to London since the recent king's friend, Mrs. Simpson, has become the most talked of woman in the world, numbers several scores. Not that any expect to ensnare a king, but it's admitted the publicity and the big plug in Britain. And there are a number of wealthy, loose and unmarried lords, dukes and what-nots about who might be made alert material with proper blandishments. At least so some of the girls think. Anyway they are taking a chance.

Not many in the free lance field have as many hurry-up chores as Marion Gillespie. She has become in magazine office and syndicate shops the official pinch hitter. When someone muffs an assignment or is late with delivery, they phone Miss Gillespie and she knocks out the essay, vignette or such in very little time. It is a simple and enviable role she follows: Do it Now. Miss Gillespie, incidentally, is remembered for her lyrics to that enduring cant, "When You Look Into the Heart of a Rose."

Bagatelles: George Worts, the writer, has joined the literary ranks in New Mexico. . . . Leon Trotsky's favorite eating place in New York was The Royal on Second avenue. . . . H. G. Wells, to intimates, has predicted death in three months. . . . He doesn't think it much fun to live after 70. . . . The Kent Coopers were first of the New York colony in Miami Beach for the season. . . . Fiske O'Hara has opened a voice studio in Los Angeles.

He popped out of a snack bar at Sherry's about dusk, all fluted up and eager for something or other. After doing a little sidewalk shuffle and shadow boxing he walked over to a taxi driver at the curb. "Say Buddie," he inquired, "do you know anything about flying?" The driver shook his head. "Well, stick around," he admonished, "I'll be taking off any time now!" (Copyright, 1936)

Science News

Science again comes to the aid of the police department. Two men, in Pasadena, Calif., have invented a new iodine vapor fingerprint detector. It is very simple in construction. It is simply a glass thistle tube, which contains calcium chloride. Breath is blown through a rubber tube, is heated by the calcium chloride and absorbs the iodine fumes in another portion of the tube. The fumes are then projected on the fingerprint surface. The fingerprints then show up plainly. The inventors are Dr. John McMorris, a chemist, and Lieut. R. S. Sears, of the Pasadena police department.

The Merry-Go-Round

By DREW PEARSON and ROBERT S. ALLEN

WASHINGTON—When the President returns to his heavily laden desk, he faces one urgent problem that has attracted little public notice.

This is retaining in the New Deal a number of ace junior executives.

Much has been written about possible cabinet changes. That the President's senior official family needs strengthening is a fact Roosevelt himself knows only too well.

The reason is simple. It is these junior executives who are carrying the real administrative load of the regime. Their loss would be a great blow.

Particularly is this true in such departments as commerce, justice and labor where the top bosses are bumbling and incompetent. For example:

The brains and driving force of the labor department are Assistant Secretary Edward F. McGrady and Dr. Isador Lubin, commissioner of the bureau of labor statistics. These two axes, one a labor authority and the other a statistical genius, are solely responsible for the department's effectiveness. Without them Miss Perkins would be a dismal flop. McGrady has been directly in charge for four years without a vacation while Miss Perkins has been absent from her office for weeks at a time delivering lectures or attending conferences in Europe.

In the justice department the situation is much the same. A group of talented young lawyers, headed by Assistant Attorney General Robert Jackson, are carrying the legal burden of the government—while amiable, indolent Homer Cummings makes himself pleasant to politicians and socialites.

RESTIVE The President is in real danger of losing these junior executives. In fact, the exodus has already begun.

Judge John J. Burns, able general counsel of the securities and exchange commission, has resigned to return to private law practice, and is taking three of his brightest aides with him. Reginald Laughlin, talented assistant general counsel of the Reconstruction Finance corporation, is departing. The treasury has lost to a Washington law firm John G. Harlan, assistant to its general counsel.

And McGrady, Jackson and Lubin have told the President they are planning to resign.

Underlying this restiveness are two reasons: First, discouragement over post-election policy trends of the White House; second, lack of recognition for their signal services.

The President's covert slashing of word-relief rolls has had a terrifically depressing effect on his more idealistic lieutenants.

They view it as an ominous development, portending a shift to the right, which they strongly disapprove. They are also uneasy about his new preoccupation with foreign affairs; feel that the more the President becomes embroiled in this sphere the less time and interest he will have in pursuing an aggressive domestic policy.

McGrady and Jackson have had several lucrative business offers. Four years of unremitting battling and burden-bearing, while far less able superiors received the honors and plaudits, have given

One Man's Opinion

By Duncan Ellsworth Clark

EDITOR'S NOTE—Here is an informative, analytical daily feature on current topics. The opinions expressed in this column are not necessarily the same as those held by The Journal.

Cupid Does Some Wild Shooting

IT IS decidedly unfortunate that King Edward's romance should burst forth at this particular time. In Europe's cauldron, bubbling so ominously just now, the most powerful restraining influence is the power and prestige of the British name. Nothing counts so heavily against Italian and German pretensions as the weight of the empire. Nothing bolsters up sagging democracies in Europe so much as the example of the British Commonwealth of Nations. And nothing makes so much for general world stability as the invisible bonds of the far-flung dominions on which the sun never sets.

Anything which loosens imperial bonds, which cheapens or ridicules the British name, which discloses lack of unity at home and a common policy abroad plays directly into the hands of those elements and forces which are trying to involve Europe in another welter of war. The one visible bond of unity of the whole empire is a common allegiance to the throne. Not the British parliament, nor the British constitution, nor martial power, but deep-seated affection for the dignity and influence of the king—this itself holds the strands of Britain's kingdoms, dominions, principalities, colonies, protectorates and mandates together. When this bond is shattered the world will probably see as much of Armageddon as it can endure.

Just why did Edward skip merrily around the world for the last 20 years of marriageable life and wait for this fateful moment to shock his people? Why did he pass

EXQUISITE IRONY

To the Editor: When Henry VIII desired to divorce Catherine of Aragon and marry Anne Boleyn he vainly sought to obtain the sanction of the Roman Catholic church. He thereupon established the Church of England as an organization entirely independent of Rome and thus promptly secured ecclesiastical blessing for the divorce and marriage. Today the hierarchy of that self-same church are up in arms because Edward VIII is contemplating marriage to a divorced woman. What exquisite irony!

What Other Editors Say

THE TEST OF EFFICIENCY (Los Angeles Times)

Former Gov. Stokes of New Jersey put the public-ownership argument in a new way the other day when he remarked that "public ownership has been rejected by a vote of 95 to 5." After years of agitation and experiment, he said, only 5 per cent of the electric energy generated throughout the United States is produced from municipally owned plants, and 95 per cent by private plants.

That is certainly a pretty good indication of public preference and efficiency. Gov. Stokes might have gone further and said with truth that not one of the municipal plants that is operating fails to lean heavily on the taxpayers in various concealed ways. If people knew the truth about these enterprises, the second vote would soon be greater in favor of efficient business operation.

Count 'em for yourself—only nine more shopping days until Christmas.

It is several nights before Christmas but I imagine if you search around the house you will find an incomplete shopping list, and you better attend to it before several more nights go by. Christmas shopping is something you should do yourself. It isn't enough just to make out a list. A diligent and thoughtful performance is necessary. Oh, shucks, what I want to tell you is to get the buying over with as quickly as possible.

When a professional man puts on his office door window "back in 15 minutes," why don't he put on the leaving time. It would give the client some information as to whether he wanted to wait that long.

I have a friend who took Saturday afternoon off to get his teeth fixed, but he did not return to report whether he had any success or not, so I am withholding an invitation to dinner. I don't want to take advantage of him.

The first fellow who attempts to leave a tin soldier at my house will be the last.

As a cooperative holiday assist the Broadway theater has flashed on the screen a suggestion to "Consider the mail man. Shop early." And for the business men: "Patronize your local merchants. Surprising values. Honest merchandise. Buy Santa Ana." I am just a little curious to know what response Los Angeles has received in the way of personal appreciation for his spirit of cooperation.

Barney Koster has the flu. Half the time he is afraid he is going to die, and the other half he is afraid he won't. Ever have the flu?

Another beautiful Christmas tree has been placed in a familiar location in the lobby of the First National bank. It is an annual custom with this institution to participate in the holiday spirit by placing and decorating an emblem long associated with the holiday season. Christmas trees afford a great deal of pleasure to the young and revive the long ago to the old. No matter how many years have elapsed, never tire of reminiscing about the joy they had when they were "kids." So let us keep alive the Christmas spirit, with all its traditions and happiness which the occasion brings.

When they put a burglar alarm on a 10-cent store the depression isn't over.

Patrolman Stephenson had to divide responsibility with Captain Stephens for the tractor parks in front of the Sycamore street office, but fails to clear the forbidden line—in this case red. Jack gets three-fourths clearance, so that only leaves Stephenson the rear wheels. If he takes them I wouldn't want Jack's car.

Cal Gilbert's dad, William S. Gilbert, added another birthday anniversary to a long list of others that he has recorded in the book of time. He started in 1851 and now has 85 to his long list of memories. He has become accustomed to them so the one last week was welcomed with usual complacency, and recorded. Mr. Gilbert is a retired contractor. He got his eyes open some place around Johnstown, Pa. Made a living for the family, took an active interest in public affairs, devoted some time to educational affairs from the standpoint of school board membership, and like so many others yielded to the persuasive call of the west and now resides in Santa Ana. They hadn't started the Civil war when he was born, but there are indications that he would have "bust" soon to make up the delay. Telephones, airplanes, dictaphones, and a whole flock of inventions have found their way into business channels since Mr. Gilbert and other pioneers made a living out of the simple implements of life. He has lived much longer than many of us, but we are living a lot faster.
